Since then, the Summer and Winter Games have typically celebrated a four-year period known as the Olympic Games; summer and winter games usually take place in the setting of even years. There were 28 Summer Olympics in 23 cities and 23 Winter Olympics in 20 cities. In addition, it was envisaged that three summer and two winter editions of the Games would be cancelled due to the war: Berlin (summer) in 1916; Tokyo-Helsinki (summer) and Sapporo-Garmisch-Partenkirchen (winter) in 1940; and London (summer) and Cortina (winter) in 1944. The 1906 Olympic games were officially sanctioned and held in Athens. In 1949, however, the International Olympic Committee (IOC) decided not to recognize the 1906 Games. [1] [2] The 2020 Summer Olympics in Tokyo were postponed for the first time in the history of the Olympic Games until summer 2021 due to the COVID-19 pandemic with the 2022 Winter Olympics, which took place about six months later in Beijing. [3] [4] The Youth Olympic Games are held every four years in the setting of summer and winter events, which are consistent with the current format of the Olympic Games, albeit in reverse with the Winter Games, which took place in leap instead of summer games. The first summer version took place in Singapore from 14 to 26 August 2010, and the first winter version took place in Innsbruck, Austria, from 13 August 2010. By 22 January 2012. [5] The OI has selected five cities to host the upcoming Olympic Games: Tokyo for the 2020 Summer Olympics, Beijing for the 2022 Winter Olympics, Paris for the 2024 Summer Olympics, Milan-Cortina for the 2026 Winter Olympics and Los Angeles for the 2028 Summer Olympics. to host the upcoming Youth Olympics: Dakar for the 2022 Summer Youth Olympics and Gangwon Province for the 2024 Winter Olympics. In 2022, Beijing will become the first city to have summer as the Winter Olympics. Eleven cities will host Games more than once: Athens (1896 and 2004 Summer Olympics), Paris (1900, 1924 and 2024 Summer Olympics), London (1908, 1948 and 2012 Summer Olympics), St. Moritz (Winter Olympics 1928. and 1948.), Lake Placid (Winter Olympics 1932 and 1980.), Los Angeles (1932, 1984, 2028). Stockholm hosted the 1912 Summer Olympics and the 1956 Summer Olympics. London became the first city to host three Games with the 2012 Olympics. Paris will become second place with the 2024 Summer Olympics, followed by Los Angeles as third in 2028. The United States hosted a total of eight Olympic Games, more than any other country, followed by France with five editions. Switzerland, Great Britain, Austria, Canada, Italy, Japan and Germany hosted three games. The Games were primarily hosted on continents of Europe (32 editions) and the Americas (14 editions); There were seven games in Asia and two in Oceania. In 2010, Singapore became the first Olympic host city in Southeast Asia for the inaugural Summer Youth Olympics, and Rio de Janeiro became South America's first Olympic host with the Summer Olympics in 2016, followed by Buenos Aires with the 2018 Summer Youth Olympics. The 2022 Summer Youth Olympics in Dakar will become the first Games to be held on the African continent. Other major geographical regions that have never hosted the Olympic Games are the Middle East, Central Asia, Indian Sub-Corner, Central America and the Caribbean. Host cities choose VOK membership, usually seven years in advance. [6] The selection process takes approximately two years. In the first phase, any city in the world can apply for a host city. After 10 months, the OO Executive Committee will decide which applicant cities will become official candidates on the basis of a recommendation from the working group reviewing the applications. In the second phase of the candidate site, the evaluation committee shall be thoroughly examined, which shall then submit a final short list of the places to be considered for selection. The host city is then selected by a vote on the meeting of the OO, the assembly of IOC members. [8] [9] ^ The 1908 Olympic Games were originally but they were moved to London when Mount Vesuvius broke out. In 1920, sailing was in Ostsand, Belgium and Amsterdam in the Netherlands. ^ The Winter Olympics in 1940 were originally awarded to Sappor in Japan, but the beginning of the Second Sino-Japanese War in 1937 caused them to be transferred to Garmisch-Partenkirchen in Nazi Germany before being cancelled in 1939 due to the expansion of World War II. ^ The 1940 Summer Olympics were originally awarded to Tokyo in Japan, but the beginning of the Second Sino-Japanese War in 1937 caused them to be relocated to Helsinki, Finland, before being cancelled in 1939 due to the expansion of World War II. ^ Cavalry events took place in Stockholm, Sweden. Stockholm had to compete for equestrian competitions separately; She received her Olympic flame and held her official invitations and opening and closing ceremonies, as did the regular Summer Olympics. In 1976, the 1976 Winter Olympics were originally awarded to Denver, Colorado, the United States, and in 1972 Denver voluntarily receded after the referendum, citing environmental concerns for the Colorado area. In the end, the NAK decided to move these matches to Austria's Innsbruck. ^a b c d e f Russia (like the former Soviet Union) dates back to the continents of Europe and Asia. However, the Russian Olympic Committee is part of the European Olympic Committee and is based in Moscow (this was also the case for the former Soviet Olympic Committee). Moscow is also the most widely recognised border between Europe and Asia on the European side. (Sochi is in Asia relative to the usual geographical border, which is south of the western end of the Greater Caucasus; but it is placed in Europe by political proxy approximations to continental borders.) ^ Cavalry events took place in Chinese HONG KONG SAR. [22] Although Hong Kong's separate NOC held equestrian competitions, it was an integral part of the Beijing Games (unlike the Stockholm Equestrian Competition in 1956, it was not held under a separate Hong Kong competition, a separate flame, etc.). [23] ^ The 2020 Summer Olympics were originally scheduled for July 24 to August 9, 2020, but were postponed to 2021 for 12 months due to the COVID-19 pandemic. However, the event is still being called the 2020 Summer Olympics to maintain the Olympics' four-year cycle. References ^ Findling, John E.; Pelle, Kimberly D. (2004).
