Re:

Dear

I am writing to inform you that [redacted] is no longer employed as a therapist at Davis Behavioral Health. Notes indicate that your last session with [redacted] was on [redacted]. We hope to be able to have you meet with another therapist in the next few weeks. Your sessions will be with the therapist who is hired to replace [redacted] or will be with a therapist who is already a part of our team.

If you have an urgent need for therapy before that time, you are welcome to contact our crisis service at 801-773-7060 or 801-546-1168. Crisis services are available 24-hours a day, seven days a week.

You are also welcome to call me during business hours and I will help to assess your situation and work to get you to a therapist on an urgent basis, if that is what is indicated. I can also be reached at 801-546-1168.

Changing therapists can be a difficult process and I appreciate your patience and willingness to work with us to do so. Davis Behavioral Health is committed to helping you reduce symptoms and to increase the skills to cope with problems you are experiencing.

Sincerely,

Marty Hood, LCSW
Children and Youth Mental Health Services Director
