Open the Mac App Store to buy and download apps. New ways to play! Play with friends or strangers in an online game or play offline with friends face to face! Exploding Kittens, the most funded game in Kickstarter history, is now available for iOS. Created by Elan Lee (Xbox, ARGs), Matthew Inman (Oatmeal) and Shane Small (Xbox, Marvel). KEY FEATURES: - Exploding Kittens is a multiplayer card game for people who are in kittens and explosions and laser beams, and sometimes goats. - Play with 2 to 5 players on multiple phones in the same room, or online with friends or strangers- All the art illustrated by Oatmeal- New cards exclusively for the digital version of Exploding Kittens- Digital version of the most supported games in Kickstarter historyIn this very strategic, kitty-powered version of Russian roulette, players draw cards until someone draws an Exploding Kitten at which point they explode, they are dead, and they are with t on the game – unless the player has a Disarmament card that can disarm the kitten using things like laser pointers, belly rubs, and catnip sandwiches. All other cards in the deck are used to move, relieve or avoid Exploding Kittens.Exploding Kittens is a paid app where optional game features can be purchased for real money. You must be at least 13 years old to download and play. It is also possible to compete online with strangers and the resulting data transfer fees may apply. Now play with friends in the car, on the plane, on the boat or in the moat.* *Don't play this game in the moat. Turn on the laser pointer! Grab a litter! Rub the belly of the all-sighted Pig-a-Corn! This mobile version of the wildly irreverent card game brings deadly cats to our devices, along with several purr-fect new twists. Hysterical illustrations by Matthew Inman (creator of Owsiak) come to life with animation and sound and a meter that tracks the chance to draw an exploding kitten, makes the game even more tense. Played face-to-face with friends or online against strangers, it is surprisingly strategic and astrophysically funny. I love this game in general and was so happy to get the app. The game is really cool and I highly recommend paying for other decks (the last one is my favorite!). If you can get your friends to play that will be cool and now while quarantining a lot of people are playing the online version of so many games to play. DONT PLAY THIS GAME ALONE! You don't need that frustration. AI from this game is very and the fact you need to win a certain amount to go to next level... it's annoying. I haven't noticed before, but playing a lot this week I took on some AI scams. I know it sounds like a kid screaming the game is cheating, but a few times I saw something that was very confusing or I thought it was going crazy then I knew something had happened when I had the opportunity to organize 5 cards. I put the card I wanted first and placed the kitten next to the AI pick up (2nd place) and put another kitten in fourth place. Yes, the first & third were the cards I wanted. I pulled out the card and got the one I wanted and then there was a change. AI pulled out the card and nothing happened and then pulled out the card and it was an exploding kitten.... Boom... Game over. Total scam, but why??? Glitch maybe? Fix it if you do. Update: I did 5 switch cards again and AI returned but didn't get exploding so I switched the top card on the bottom card and still got the exploding kitten and lost the game. Exploding Kittens is an absolutely great game to play with friends. Playing with strangers does not have the same character. And playing the same thing alone over and over again. I think the card game is a great better game. For two specific reasons, the first reason is the lack of cards. The game is missing two cards. The first is the nope card. I love this card and I think it was the main part of the original. With nope you may have a super nope in one of the extensions that can't be noped again. The second card is cat cards. Cat cards use for combos, but now everyone just steal the card. Now I do not think the mobile game should have this complexity, but maybe the cat card should have maybe two actions and you can choose which one does your cat card. The second thing is extensions. I think Barking Kittens and Imploding Kittens expansions would be great for the digital game. Also I feel like the game is generally overstated. I have the impression that any expansion should be just a dollar. I also think that all avatar packages should be dollar, as science vs religion is cool and everything, but I mean it's a slight cosmetic difference. The single player needs upgrading maybe more cats to fight that would do unique things like decent exploding kitten. And custom decks. The last thing is just things that would add like an avatar frame. The game should be updated more frequently. The developer, Exploding Kittens, did not provide details about its privacy and data processing practices to Apple. For more information, see your privacy policy. Estoy por comprar una copia de Exploding Kittens para mi familia, y como no hablan inglés decidí traducir el reglamento al español. Las cartas lamentablemente estarán en inglés, pero las reglas son lo suficientemente simples como para poder jugar sin saber el idioma.¡Espero que les sea útil! (no tengo intenciones de violar copyright, ante cualquier reclamo eliminaré este post)---Hi everyone! I'm going to buy a copy of Exploding Kittens for my family, and since they don't speak English I decided to translate the rules into Spanish. The cards are unfortunately in English, but the rules are easy enough to allow them to play without having to know the language. I hope you guys find it useful!
