Have you ever heard of a software called Game Maker? Perhaps. It's not easy to use. And it will take a while to understand. Not only does it make games, it can also make software. Now we'll start with a simple game. You can move the square around. Materials:1 computer with Game Maker.Right now, we need to start a new project. If you don't have Game Maker, then download it from here. You can buy it or get a free edition. We need to make a sprite for the square so we can see the object. Then we will need to make an object for the square. And then, we'll need a room to put a square in an inch so, the game code is a little complicated. We have to open a menu of square objects and we can add events. Put events buttons up, down, left, and right keyboards. Next, put up, down, left, right button released events. Then drag the first button to the right with arrows in all directions to the event workspace. Double-click the action, and then click the button that shows which direction your event is talking about. Set the speed to 5. When you reach the events that you've released, click the dot button in the center and set the speed to 0. Look at the code from the video. How to make a game in Game Maker – Step #3You want to change the background color. You can do this in the room menu. Congrats! You just made a play in Game Maker. If you want the game to be an exe file, just click on the right save button. Then click the drop-down menu. Click Offline Exe and save the game. You're done and you have .exe here's AWSOME GMAE I did with gaming :)
