Atomic bomberman 1997 online

Download... Description: The essence of the game is just so that there is nowhere else. You have to blow up with a bomb all enemies, which you can find on the map. As in the previous parts, the player must control the famous Bomberman itself. All of them will paint in their own color. For each other bomberman murder, the player will receive the kill points. The winner is the one who scored more crossbar (kills), that is, kills. It will interfere with the walls, which are divided into only 2 types: those that can explode and those that explode are not possible. The game is referred to as cooperative games as you can play up to 10 people at a time. Some on the keyboard, others on the joystick, and you can only on the lan. How to fix colors on Windows 7 and Vista: the original colors will appear very strange and curly. For a normal view, you should do the following: 1) apply the recording disk with the parameters to unload your system (x32/x64/x86) 2) 2 Apply_x64 Apply_x86) Reg - for a 64-bit system how to remove a tweet for the record: Delete_x86-64.reg - for a 32/64-bit system all the disk you can find in the folder: fix_palette_game_in_vista_win7 there are also keys to the game and a few trailers.

As in previous games, the player controls Bomberman, trying to blow up another Bomberman with bombs. They are all painted in different colors, and the color of the bombs corresponds to the color of the player who puts them. For each enemy bomberman, blown with a single bomb player, he gets one point kills (to kill a player with several bombs bombers none of them gets points). If a player blows himself up, he loses one point. If you manage to blow up all the bombers on the field (before the time expires, if not infinite), the player is given one point. The winner is the one who scores either a certain number (set before the game) points, or kill sire. As before, there are two types of walls:

unreserved (always located the same, through one) and explode (located according to the chosen maze scheme). If you set a time limit for one game, then at the last minute in the middle of the screen the hastily engraved will appear! The screen will start to be covered with unpreserved walls (from the edge of the field to the center). The number of fields to be covered depends on the D settings. Info: Many walls that can be blown up contain different bonuses make the game easier. Among them: additional bombs (at the beginning of the game you can put only one), increase the length of the flame, increase the length of the flame to the maximum, crock (give the disease for example, place the bombs themselves, the minimum size of the flame, the space transport, the inability to place bombs, etc.), the black crock (give three diseases at the same time), acceleration, Move bombs, the ability to put all available bombs in a row, throw bombs (when touched), throw bombs (from one place, ground bombs in a row), slow down (after receiving the golden bomber), turn the bomb into jelly (the essence is that the bomb, knock on the obstacle (wall, other bomb), roll back, and install the trigger on the bomb (special button). The rewards that give diseases (skulls) do not last long. Bonuses such as additional bombs, increased flame length, acceleration, and the ability to transport cumulative bombs. It is the rest you will have to choose what is more important: 1) take the trigger bonus, the player loses the gel and the ability to throw bombs:2) take a jelly bonus or the ability to throw bombs, the player loses the bonus trigger:3) get a chance to throw bombs, the player loses the opportunity to put them in a row, and vice versa.
