Jackbox Games Way in 1995, my favorite CD-ROM game was You Don't Know Jack, a party game I played endlessly with friends and family. It was charming, funny and disrespectful. Fast forward 25 years, and YDKJ can still be enjoyed in the form of various Jackbox Party Packs. If you don't know Jack, you owe it to yourself to take one or more Jackbox games, especially now jackbox has sales all over the site with marked games down from 25% to 45%. And now until the end of the month, you can take another 5% discount when you use the ELF promo code at checkout. That means some games are discounted up to 50%. There are some better party games to play during the upcoming holidays, and thanks to some internet magic, you can play the game remotely too, so you can play with distant and family friends as well.
