In English, the three main precincts of the time: IN, AT, ON, and in Russian we have two main excuses B and NA. That's the reason for most of the mistakes. Today we will look at those cases of using pretensions IN, AT, ON, that cause the biggest problems for students. The apse of AT is used: q to refer to time: at six o'clock, at half past six, at ten to six, with the names of holidays, if we mean a period, rather than a specific day, sometimes with the word time: at Christmas (time), at Easter (time) with the words night, midnight, noon, afternoon, (the) weekend (s); in the night. , : right now, at the moment, with the names of the days of the week (days of the week): on Monday (s), on Saturday (s) if the time of day is specified with a specific day of the week: on Friday morning (s), on Monday afternoon (s), on Saturday night (s) with dates (dates): on 5 March 2010, on 26 November 1986 in combinations with the word : on Christmas Day, on Christmas Day, on Christmas Day. : in 1962, in 2012 with times titles (seasons): in summer, in winter • названиями месяцев (months): in December, in August • в словосочетаниях: in the morning, in the afternoon, in the evening • в значении «через», когда мы имеем в виду период времени: in five minutes = in five minutes' time in three weeks = in three weeks' time in two months = in two months' time in a year = in the year's time Предлоги времени IN , AT, OP используются словами: • next Monday, next year • last month, last month • this morning, this spring • every day, every day, every Saturday Оба варианта правильные, используются по-разному. At the end of ... обозначает «в конце чего-либо» обязательно указывается период: at the end of the week - в конце недели at the end of the month - в конце месяца at the end of the year - в конце года С предлогом AT можно использовать слово start (в начале): at the beginning of the week - в начале недели at the beginning of the month - в начале месяца at the beginning in начале года the year - в начале года the end /может употребляться периодом времени , потому что, если используется предлог in, то фраза обозначает «в конце концов» (finally): In the end, we start the car. = Finally, we started a car. – В конце концов, мы завели машину. In the end, they reached an agreement. = Finally, they reached an agreement. – В конце концов, они достигли соглашения. Слово start at является антонимом слова end в данной фразе. Противоположное по значению выражение (initially (сначала, поначалу): At first, we couldn't start the car. – Сначала они не могли завести машину. At first, they were unable to reach an agreement. – Поначалу они не могли прийти к соглашению. Как правильно: TIMELY или TIME? Оба варианта переводятся «вовремя». In the обозначает for the «поздно», что в запале еще есть время: We arrived at the airport on time. – Мы прибыли в аэропорт вовремя. (Мы успели, еще оставалось время до рейса, мы не опоздали). Иногда может добавляться слово Just для усиления: They Came the station just in time to catch the bus. They came to the station just in time. (They nearly missed the bus, they had little time left). IN Time can be used in combinations: -- in time to do something: She went to the theater in time to see my performance. She came to the theater just in time to see my show. – in time for something: I hope the flowers are delivered in time for her birthday. - I hope that the flowers will be delivered to her birthday in time (delivery will not be delayed). ON TIME – on time, as planned, on schedule, on schedule. At the time, we use when it comes to punctuality: All students are handed in their reports at the time. All students passed their abstracts on time (at the exact time or day). I can meet you at 6 o'clock. Please be on time. I can meet you at 6 o'clock. Please don't be late (come on time).
