So when I was planning a trip abroad with my wife, I was looking for an app that I could use on my MacBook Pro to help me sleep during the flight. Not only is it free, it's perfect for me. With a plethora of sound choices, including the white/pink/brown background that I'm used to, I don't see how you can do much better. I read on one revue that the app uses high power graphics, and I confirmed that it does. So I created my MacBook to play my Klipsch headphones with the screen off (black) as a dough. He used 5% of the battery capacity in one hour (and, BTW he put me to sleep), so no problem for my 8-hour flight. It's a great app! So glad to hear that we could help you through a long flight. We really appreciate the excellent rating, review and feedback. Thank you for your support! It's free, and the range of sounds available without the need for amazing updates - including the awesome brown noise that, when played through my Bluetooth speaker, puts a wall of sound between me and my neighbors. It covers all the sound vibrations, fantastic for thickening those thin walls of my complex. Whether you're looking for privacy in your apartment, dorm, family home, or while talking on the phone, this is the perfect download. I feel like upgrading cleanly to support developers for providing an excellent freebie app. Actually, I will. I just got this app, and I'm incredibly impressed at the opportunity. We always use a noise machine for our young son while he sleeps and on the journey we didn't have one. I needed something quickly and came across this app. The finished sounds are perfect! The ability to mix looks incredible (although I don't think I need to be involved). Develop a top-level and Recommended. Can't wait to try this tonight! February 15, 2018 The 7.3.1 version of 7.3.1 requires a minimum of macOS 10.10 so please update to get the latest update. Version 7.3 allows you to display the latest received postcard (view menu), updates several links to digital music stores (info button) and fixes numerous mapping problems when working on the latest version of macOS. Version 7.2 added a new tone and the binaural beats of the generation added to the generator along with the visual audio graphics. New audio details view sound descriptions and total time listened to with buttons to edit, delete, share, browse the market, and play at music stores. The New Heart and Information button on the home screen next to the media controls. There are a lot of minor stability improvements. We're also adding new video visualizations of our popular sounds. Visit to see our latest creations! The best is getting better and the new sounds are much higher quality in this version and the new interface is very polished. It's also nice that you can download a lot of extra sounds for free. Thank you! I love the brown noise and the pink noise of presets. They help me completely drown out conversations in my open floorpan workplace office. Thanks for the feedback and and amazing rating! Glad that the noises may be there for you at work to help you focus and drown out your neighbors work.-) We appreciate your feedback and support! When I first downloaded White Noise, I thought it was a neat little app, with sounds that provide the perfect atmosphere for exploring and sleeping. But having to click 15 times just to get to the noise I wanted, and the lack of trackpad gestures made this app lack the necessary functionality. In addition, the lack of alarm or sleep timer made using this app impractical. However, with the latest update (version 2.0.0), all my concerns were addressed, in addition to other features I didn't even expect. The mix pad is just fantastic how to play and actually listen. The trackpad gestures are not particularly intuitive (at least for me), in that swiping right actually goes to the sound left and vice versa. I guess the idea is that you're swiping that sound away. Even so, I'm grateful that the swipe does anything at all. I will recommend this app to all my friends as a fun and useful tool. The only thing I can think of is that would make this app better with more sounds. The developer, TMSOFT, did not provide Apple with details of its privacy practices and Data.
