Company manages secured credit obligations (CLO) and other non-standard solutions[buzzword] for its clients. [6] [7] History Company was founded in 1994 by Daniel Ocha with the financial support of the Ziff family, founders of Ziff Davis Media. William Bernard Ziff Jr. Dirk's sons Edward Ziff, Robert D. Ziff and Daniel Ziff manage the family's investments through Ziff Brothers Investments. Prior to founding Och, he was head of stock trading at Goldman Sachs. In 2007, the company ended its first public offering by listing its shares on the New York Stock Exchange at $32. The company was one of the few hedge funds and private equity firms to complete an IPO before the market collapsed in Year. Also in 2007, he became a founding member of the Hedge Fund Standards Board, which standards of best practice approved by its members. [13] The company reportedly avoided major losses during the 2008 financial crisis and institutional capital continued to allocate funds to the company. In September 2016, the company reached a settlement with the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission and the Department of Justice, concluding a five-year investigation into violations of the Foreign Corrupt Practices Act for allegedly giving bribes to government officials in several African countries. The company's African subsidiary also pleaded guilty to one of conspiracy charges. After the settlement, the company restructured its management. In March 2019, founder and then-CEO Dan Och stepped down, and in September 2019 the company changed its name to Sculptor Capital Management. In January 2018, Michael Cohen, the former head of Och Ziff's European operations, was charged with fraud related to the company's activities in Africa. [17] The Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) sued Michael Cohen as part of a probe into Och Ziff, in particular in connection with the Och Ziff bribery scheme in the Democratic Republic of Congo, Chad and Libya to win business for the company.
