I'm Still Here – Bre-ZAll American Season 2 Episode 14 Promo (2020) The CW knows a thing or two when it comes to setting teen and family dramas to the perfect soundtrack. The Upper East Side wouldn't have seemed half as luxe if gossip girl wasn't running around with the sounds of Oppenheimer, The Pierces and the Kooks. Even Stars Hollow wouldn't have seemed worth a visit without Gilmore Girls's folksy, eccentric troubador tunes. Here's the All American, whose soundtrack is too earless not to listen again. Luckily for fans, the entire All American soundtrack is already available on Spotify. If you actually want to choose the songs you're listening to, you'll need to have a premium subscription, otherwise you can shuffle blindly by set. Pro Tip: If you haven't started following the CW on Spotify in general, you should definitely add them to your list so you can stay on top of the new music from all the shows you're already watching — or maybe even discover a new one that's worth tuning in. Neither Amazon nor Apple Music yet have the opportunity to listen to the official music of All Americana, but that may change, especially if the show decides to release the album's official soundtrack to buy. The list of all American soundtracks includes a mix of newer hits such as My Drug from Romen Jewels, along with older classics such as The Killers's Mr. Brightside. There are household names such as Kendrick Lamar, Imagine Dragons, Foster the People, Jimmy Eat World, alt-J and SZA, as well as lesser-known artists such as Ghost Channels and Alleko, for whom this could only be their big break. Surprisingly, Spotify's soundtrack list shows nothing from rapper-turned-actor Bre-Z, who plays Spencer's best friend and cousin Coop. Bre-Z also appeared as Freda Gatz on Empire, where he was able to contribute several songs audio display of the broadcast. In an interview with Glamour, Jessica Radloff asked Bre-Z if she thought she'd ever get a chance to sing at The All American. I think it's the only right thing to do, she replied. That's why I'm excited. I think so. Bre-Z said music is an even more honest art form for her than acting. 'On TV people perceive me to be a certain type of person,' she explained. People are so invested in these [characters] that they don't actually know who I am. But my music is an opportunity to say, That's me. Bre-Z isn't the only music artist who could also contribute to the future All American soundtrack. Taye Diggs, who plays coach Billy Baker, also has some pipes. The original version of Rent in 1996 appeared with Diggs, who was on Broadway, before repeating his role for the film version nine years later. Showtunes doesn't really match the sound of All American so far, so it certainly won't happen (it shouldn't), but the show's shows are about to show how loaded this show is with talent.
