Ufc 254 start time eastern

UFC 254 is set to take off in minutes at fight island location in the United Arab Emirates. The early preliminary card starts at 11.m. ET, the preliminary card starts around noon and the main card starts at approximately 14.m. ET. The main event with Russian fighter Khabib Nurmagomedov and American fighter Justin Gaethje is due to start at approximately 4:30 p.m ET. Soon the preliminary card will stream on the UFC Fight Pass. The pre-card will be broadcast on ESPN2 and ESPN+. The main card will be streamed exclusively in PPV to ESPN+. UFC cards usually don't start until closer to 6 .m. ET, but that's unique. The main event is an easy unification title fight between Khabib and Gaethje. Due to Khabib's worldwide popularity, especially in Eastern Europe, Dana White and the UFC have decided to go with an earlier start time. [3] [4] [5] Background Event continued with local timing of hours in prime time. The main card began at 10:00 p.m. local time in Abu Dhabi, with the full precard starting at approximately 6:15 p.m. Gulf Standard Time. [6] Ufc Lightweight Championship unification bout between current champion Khabib Nurmagomedov and interim champion Justin Gaethje (also a former WSOF Lightweight Champion) served as the headliner of the event. [7] The bout was briefly linked to UFC 253, but the date did not take place and instead took place four weeks later. On September 17, the UFC announced the signing of former three-time world light weight champion Bellator Michael Chandler, who served as a backup and potential replacement for the fight. Khabib Nurmagomedov held a perfect 28-0 record leading into the action. [10] The middleweight bout between former UFC middleweight champion Robert Whittaker and Jared Cannonier was originally scheduled to take place at UFC 248 in March. However, Whittaker pulled out for personal reasons. [11] Pairings have been invited to this event. [12] Although it has never been officially announced, a feather wrestling match between Ultimate Fighter: Latin American feather winner Yair Rodriguez and Zabit Magomedsharipov was expected to take place at the event. [13] Pairings have been scheduled on two previous occasions, first at UFC 228 September 2018 and then on UFC Fight Night: Smith vs. Rakic on Aug. Rodriguez, however, withdrew from both incidents with injuries. [14] [15] Magomed Ankalaev and Ion Cutelaba met for the first time in a light heavyweight bout at UFC Fight Night: Benavidez vs. Figueiredo, where Ankalaev won via a controversial knockout. [17] Due to the controversy stopping, the UFC booked a rematch for UFC 249, on its original date of April 18. [18] However, Ankalaev was forced to withdraw from the event due to travel restrictions related to the COVID-19 pandemic. [19] They were later rebooked for UFC 252, but Cutelaba then pulled out after testing positive for COVID-19 and the bout was rescheduled for UFC Fight Night: Smith vs. Rakic. Cutelaba tested positive again on the day of the event, which led to the further cancellation of this fight. [21] On the other hand, they were translated for the third time and met at this event. [22] Promotional rookie Isi Fitiketu weighed in as a substitute for this match. [23] Eliza Zaleski dos Santos was expected to face Shavkat Rakhmonov in a welterweight bout at the event. [24] However, dos Santos pulled out at the end of September due to a knee injury that would have required surgery. [25] He was replaced by Alex Oliveira. [26] An easy match between former champion Rafael dos Anjos and Islam Makhachev was to be held at the event. On October 8, however, it was announced that dos Anjos had tested positive for COVID-19 and had been withdrawn from the match. [28] No replacement could be found and Makhachev was also removed from the event. [29] The pairing was left intact and re interspersed on November 14th in UFC Fight Night: Felder vs. dos Anjos. [30] Cynthia Calvillo and former Invicta FC bantamweight champion Lauren Murphy were scheduled to meet in the women's flyweight bout at the event. Calvillo, however, withdrew from the match on October 15 after a positive test for COVID-19 and was replaced by promotional rookie Liliya Shakirova. [32] The bantamweight bout between Umar Nurmagomedov and Sergei Morozov was expected to take place at the event. On October 18, however, it was announced that Nurmagomedov had been hospitalized due to illness and the match had been scrapped. [33] Morozov remained as a substitute for the 140lb catchweight bout between Nathaniel Wood and Casey Kenney. [34] On the weigh-ins, Alex Oliveira and Joel Álvarez missed the weight for their matches. Oliveira weighed in at 173 pounds, two pounds over the welterweight non-title fight limit. Álvarez weighed in at 159.5 pounds, three and a half pounds over the lightweight non-title fight limit. Both of their fights continued at catchweight and each of them was fined 20% and 30% of their individual wallets respectively, which went to their rivals Shavkat Rakhmonov and Alexander Yakovlev. [36] Fight of the Night: Casey Kenney vs. Nathaniel Wood Performance of the Night: Khabib Nurmagomedov and Magomed Ankalaev Aftermath In Khabib Nurmagomedov's post-fight interview, announced his departure from mixed martial arts and explained that he promised his mother that he would not continue fighting without his late father (who died of complications related to COVID-19 in July after contracting the disease after heart surgery). Today I mean, it was my last game. There's no way I'm coming here without my father, Nurmagomedov said. It was the first time it had happened to my father. When the UFC called me with Justin, I spoke to my mother for three days. She doesn't (want me) to go fight without a father, but I promised her it would be my last fight. And if I give my word, I have to follow this. [37] Viewership Just three days before fight night, UFC officials said they watched media coverage for the card in more than 50 countries, totaling more than 23 billion views. [38] In Russia, UFC 254 was broadcast on REN TV, where it attracted more than 10.8 million viewers on live television, ranking first in Russian TV ratings. The event was watched by 19.2% of demographic groups aged 25 to 54 in Russia, including 25.7% of men in this demographic area. In the capital Moscow, the event was watched by 19.8% of the 25-54 age demographic, including 26.8% of men in that demographic.
