I haven't yet discovered why a situation over trafficked to the server, or is the setting that is decreasing the connection to a preset interval or may lose the connection if the dynamic IP is reset. (Alternatively, some free VPN services have no problem staying connected). But it's still a very good interface, which works extremely well for at least short-term communication. I really liked the computer version for Windows 10, no real problem other than the automatic connection to the boot-up is not the one thing I was able to do the work; on the application for a premium paid. This issue, however, can be a firewall/antivirus problem in my own system. Once started, it was excellent. It is one of the few VPN services I like and recommend. OR DO IT, ORICUM. Adding update: Often changing countries (certain countries) will be an improvement in connection stability. Localized servers in the U.S. appear to be (for undisclosed reasons) ☹. In addition, the PC version must have a removal tool to pick up the old version (which looks very well embedded) embedded) you can install the new updated version. At this time the current version will not be installed on its own conflict message and is totally useless on a Windows PC. Paid the annual upgrade fee and it looks like it's a poor business. Awesome service atunciMajor. Ursa First, the company is second to none in terms of support, troubleshooting, and individualized support. Their nodes and hubs are at full speed. Their client is simplified and has tremendous ease of use. JAYDLUV This is my go app for VPN. It's been using the Windows version for years and the iPad version is great. Pkcarreon No hiccups, no accidents or anything. It's going really well. Keep in mind you must subscribe to the service for this to work. I highly recommend it. Scott LoffinSimple and solid. No problem, even when traveling. Joe1134206 Hard to find a nit with this app. (...) The iOS app allows faster startup/deactivation than digging settings, for iOS hostile vpn apps, such as Pandora and Netflix. I love the value of PIA for money, and I haven't had any problems with the iOS app. We recommend this application, and PIA, as one of the layers of online security. DB Associates I've done my homework, reviewing many VPN services. PIA was among the most economical, a lot of simultaneous connections and more than enough servers and services. The speed is higher than I hoped. I can stream all videos on YouTube. HD quality is superb, without buffering. I'm happy to have this extra security on all our devices. My wife couldn't tell the difference after I installed it on her PC. I think I paid $39.99/year. Helmut GDPR GDPR The app only sends your usernames and encrypted passwords to our servers as part of using this application. During registrations, we also collect the user's email. We do not collect and/or store any other user information. December 14, 2020 Version 3.9.0 – Changed the way we are displaying unavailable servers- Improved connection initialization sequence-Implemented support for the dedicated IP feature I asked all the stupid questions someone could ask and received all the answers. Easy to connect high support. first update, had a number of problems and sent an email to customer support on Sunday. It's been two days and I haven't received a response. Continuously lowers the connection and when I go to the troubleshooting page you drive through, but tells you to look for things that aren't there in the settings section. I had an interesting opportunity that arose to test the so-called hidden IP address. I was on a new Paywall site and lost track of the number of times I read articles for free. The site told me I reached my maximum, so I completely got out and restarted my phone, made sure the connection was on and green, then I went back to the same new service site. Now, let me say right now I'm not trying to break them off, but I saw an opportunity to test the function of the hidden IP address. Now it is assumed that my IP address is blocked so that no one can see, so therefore I should be able to go to this new site with paywall and they should continue to allow me to see more news articles, but that was not the case. They blocked me by saying I'd reached my peak. I sent an email to the company, but unfortunately they didn't respond. I'm not sure I'll keep it before the probation period is up. I've never had a problem. It's been going to VPN for the last 2 years. Awesome service since ☹Update: to all the negative comments out there – there are a ton of options to tweak to make the connection more stable. In fact, this is the only VPN service I know that offers 3 different options (IPSec, IKEv2, and OpenVPN). Experiment!! Not all Wi-Fi is the same. Try changing the sign-in options. IKEv2 is usually the most stable with OpenVPN coming second. With the latter you can even change the port number. Maybe stop complaining and try to do some research. I've had this app for over 2 years and it's never failed. And for these very strict environments there is always the official OpenVPN application with preconfigured PIA profiles for literally any situation. And before I ask you - I wasn't paid to write this or I'm getting a discount. I'm just reading comments from people who seem like they would rather cry than explore the multitude of connection options this offered by this service/declama I don't know what you guys did on this new update, but now it's a huge struggle to connect on your iPad and iPhone. Is. Is. again, over and over and over hoping it will connect. Changing regions is up to a 50% chance it will catch. On my Mac Pro is produced slow buffering video streaming even at the speed of 100mps, slow site loading on both Safari and Firefox and major connection issues on iPad and iPhone. Huge disappointment for a 3-year-old client. Sending complaint slow speed for the last 3 years a week has not improved the service at all and it becomes very annoying now. This new update has put me over the edge to look for a better service. My one year is up in a month and will be looking for a better provider.UPDATE Since the new Mac update recently, everything is running nicely... connection is impeccable on Mac. Connection speed is faster, disconnection speed is also faster. The new design is great and had no problems with this new Mac update. So NOROC at nice work. What you've ever done to update your Mac needs to be done with your iPhone and iPad update. Connection problems still occur when you connect to Canada and Mexico on your iPad and iPhone, even after the iPhone PIA update. I use them because of the smaller Numbers MS. Thank you for solving Mac problems. Here's hoping the fixes will come to iPad and iPhone problems. I'm sorry to hear about the connection problems you have experienced!
