Help Sam save his friends by feeding a picky monster. Discover cool weapons, silly gear, and the reason why Birdman is so confused. Tiny Tomb is a pocket-sized roguelike adventure where you can crawl dungeons like the good old days. It's fast paced and easy to get into, supporting short game sessions for all kinds of players. Cute Voxel art quirky characters and story Stop-motion style animations Everchanging tombs 25 special items to collect 4 worlds to explore Open the Mac App Store to buy and download apps. The game allows you to move to a new reality. Four beautifully visible worlds hover on the edge of the universe. To save your friends, you need to make a trip to each one of them... And don't forget to feed the moody monster. (I'll find out what's so confusing about the naturalist...) In Tiny Tomb you will find everything that dungeons are famous for, and even more: - the original plot and unusual characters - pleasant-eyed vocal graphics - puppet animation - the ever-changing landscape tombs - more than 25 collectible items - 4 fantastic worlds open exploring Simple dynamic game will take a lot of fun. Whether you're going to play for half an hour or all night, it meets your expectations. March 18, 2020 version 1.11 ----- Turkish language support- Fix soft-lock in rare cases incorrect ad placement seems good. Please increase the FPS or add options to the options the game tightens. Interesting gateway, locations and enemies. It's a well-built end, then they say the game ends when it has to end. You don't have to continue because only new locations will make the game too long and boring. Thanks for the game, I advise everyone! There's a bug I've seen though where sometimes something happens before you can see it. For example, a saw blade killed me because it hit me before I saw it move, and I also saw this mucus where it seems to hit before it hits it. I don't really know how to describe it, I'm not a game developer, but otherwise this game is fantastic! I only have a few suggestions: to make more enemies for the world. I really like the haunted level and how there are 4 enemies, but the other levels are only 2, so it doesn't really put me on my toes. Another suggestion is to have more elements, as I think there are a lot of options in this game that need to be explored. More elements would make the game even more fun and replay capable. Finally, I think 1 or 2 new worlds would be great. However, this game is still incredibly fun and has not lost its charm like many other mobile games. I'm excited to see the future of this game!
