Sensory information shows will love everyone who enjoys south Australia's biggest event, but not only will many people report it, but not just a large crowd, this may not be possible for everyone, especially show attendees with additional needs or cognitive impairments such as autism spectrum disorder. They hope the information below will help them plan their day and create a great experience for everyone attending the Royal Adelaide Show. Quiet Area | Location: Between Farm Expo and Learning Center (C10) Time: 11 am to 6pm Daily show attendees have access to a new quiet area between the Farm Expo and the Learning Center (C10) which requires some quiet time and relief from sensory stimulation. The space is designed as a retreat for families and individuals who may need special needs, and support staff from Autism SA can help. While a quiet day everyone welcomes every day of the show, if you prefer fewer people, the quiet days of the show are likely to be: Tuesday, September 3, 2019 Tuesday 3 September 2019 Thursday 4 September 2019 Quiet areas traditionally at the southern end of the showground, especially livestock areas tend to be quieter than carnival and entertainment areas. If you want to see the main arena entertainment, the grassy hills at the southern end typically have fewer people than spectators. The night shift program features a large amount of noise and excitement that may not be suitable for all show attendees. The weekly program, which consists mainly of horse action competitions, is generally more peaceful and often has enough seats in the grandstands. Please see the entertainment timetable for show times. See fireworks RAA fireworks close the main arena every night: Friday and Saturday @9pm Monday-Thursday and Sunday @8pm close with a bang every night of the Royal Adelaide Show. For the first time ever they will be announcing an exciting 7-minute Pyro musical fireworks and HSGF fireworks system display integrated 45 launch locations creating a large circular launch area for stunning views from any angle. Other new fireworks include red star mines and white glitter comets, twilight glitter tails and white strobing mines white strobing dahlias. Click here for all opening and closing times. Play & Go Tips If you're enjoying the Royal Adelaide show and your child is at school, plan ahead and see which day you've taken off for 'Show Day' so you can take the same day off. If the worst case scenario occurs and they are lost, you will have an image exactly what they are wearing to show the authorities - take a picture of each child before you get to the show. Use the free safety wristband provided at the entrance to create a mobile phone number on the band and place it on your child's wrist. Also, if you have a skateboard for strollers, it's worth using it for your tired older child who can get around the car and the foreground. It is also convenient to carry a stroller. If you want to avoid going through the carnival and show the rides at the start with your kids, enter through the gates of Goodwood Road in front of the crosswalk. This allows you to see everything in the pavilion, see the animals, watch stage performances and do other free activities before the kids are attracted to the rides. The $2.50 cheese toast is one of the cheaper options for kids to eat. Make it your day and watch some of the free shows and get your money's worth - we love precision driving cars and motorcycle tricks, and always watching them just before fireworks. It's a great way to rest your legs after walking all day.
