A. Applegate. Inspired by the true story of gorilla John, the film stars voices Sam Rockwell as Ivan alongside Angelina Jolie, Danny DeVito, Helen Mirren, Brooklyn Prince, Chaka Khan, Ron Funches, Phillipa so, and Mike White with human characters portrayed by Ramón Rodríguez, Ariana Greenblatt, and Bryan Cranston. The project was first announced in 2014 and went into production two years later. The cast was put together between October 2017 and May 2018, with filming taking place in Florida in the summer of 2018. Originally intended for theatrical release, The One and Only Ivan has been available to stream on Disney+ since 21 August 2020 and has received lukewarm reviews from critics. Plot Ivan, a silver western lowland gorilla, lives in an enclosure in big top mall. He performs for Mack, the owner, along with other performers; a wise and caring African elephant named Stella, a spoiled poodle named Snickers, a spunky chicken named Henrietta, a rabbit riding fire trucks named Murphy, a paranoid sea lion named Frankie, and an auspicious parrot named Thelma. John is accompanied by a stray jet, later named Bob, who secretly lives in his enclosure. Mack's janitor George brings his daughter Julia who often communicates with John. One day, Julia leaves her old crayons with John who suddenly begins to take an interest in drawing with them. Julia is supposedly the only one who can decipher his drawings and what they mean. Big Top Mall starts losing business a lot because of Mack's concern, but he gets excited when he buys an elephant named Ruby that starts to draw crowds. John is initially hesitant about accepting Ruby, especially when she starts to shing into his private life. When Stella, who cared for Ruby, suddenly gets weaker and can't perform, John gives Ruby encouragement to embrace the audience on her own. Afterwards Ruby begs Ivan to tell her the story and John reveals how Mack and wife Helen adopted him when he was just a baby. As John got bigger, Mack got bigger. Mack got bigger. his animalistic behavior, but Helen left him out of frustration. Mack eventually bought the mall and turned it into a circus. Stella begs Ivan to keep an eye on Ruby and make sure she's free before they die. Mack starts training Ruby for the circus, which he doesn't like John and he decides to find a way to free her. John's drawings were discovered by Mack and decides it to be the next big act, but despite the publicity in the news, John refuses to cooperate. At night, Ivan and Bob cheat on security guard Castello and free themselves and Ruby. At Ruby's urging, Henrietta, Murphy, Frankie and Thelma are also released and the animals flee big top mall to escape into the woods on the other side of the highway while Snickers remains behind. To their disappointment, the forest is just a crossroads and they are surrounded by multiple cities. Alerted by Castello, Mack manages to bring the animals back and tries to keep their escape under wraps. Ruby asks Ivan to tell her another story. At Bob's urging, John finally explains how he used to live in the jungle with other gorillas. John, then known as Mud, liked to do drawings in the mud and play with his sister Tag who loved playing tag. Ivana was separated by family when the poachers came and has not seen any other gorillas since. As Mack informs George that this incident does not reach the press as he mentions that he fired Castello, Julia sympathetically gives Ivan some finger paint and, inspired, decides to paint the mural. The next day, visitors arrive along with journalist Candace Taylor, who heard about a possible escape and decided to film the series. John's mural, a recreation of forests and lakes, is seen by the crowd who respond positively to it. Julia believes Ivan wants to be free and informs Candace. Protesters are coming soon demanding the release of the animals. Mack finally gives in and decides to close the mall. As all the animals have been taken away, Mack has one last moment with John, thanking him for his time. Ivana is led to a large gorilla enclosure at Zoo Atlantic by Dr Maya Wilson where she is reunited with her species. To his amazement, it is located right next to the elephant enclosure where Ruby is with his species. John assures Stella's spirit that Ruby is safe under his guard. During the credits, photos and recordings of the real John are shown with a summary of his life. In a scene in the middle of the credits, Ivana is greeted by Bob, who was adopted by Julia and George who come to visit the enclosure along with Mack to check on John. Cast Bryan Cranston as Mack, owner and ringmaster of Big Top Mall. Ramón Rodríguez as George, Julia's father and janitor on Big Top Mall. Ariana Greenblatt as Julia, George's daughter who encourages John to draw. Owain Arthur as Castello, a security guard at Big Top Mall whom Mack often orders to keep Bob out. Bourne as Helen, Mack's ex-wife who left when John got older. Eleanor Matsuura as Candace Taylor, a journalist covering John's finger painting. Indira Varma as Dr. Maya Wilson, zoologist. Mike White cameos as a passing driver who witnesses the animal's escape. The voices of Sam Rockwell as John, a western lowland gorilla who was rescued at a young age by Mack. Angelina Jolie as Stella, the wise African elephant bush who is John's friend. Danny DeVito as Bob, a stray dog who is John's friend and often sneaks into big top mall for mack's annoyance. Helen Mirren as Snickers, a spoiled white poodle owned by Mack. Brooklyn Prince as Ruby, the baby african bush elephant Mack gets from a bankrupt circus. Chaka Khan as Henrietta, spunky silkie chicken. Ron Funches as Murphy, a white European rabbit who wears a red bow tie and drives a Phillip fire truck toy like Thelma, a local blue-and-yellow macaque. Mike White as Frankie, a nervous California sea lion balancing the ball. The April 9, 2014 production announced that Walt Disney Pictures is set to adapt the book with Allison Shearmur producing. On May 11, 2016, it was announced that Mike Newell would direct, with a screenplay by Mike White. On March 31, 2017, Thea Sharrock entered into negotiations to direct the film after Newell left the project. On October 11, 2017, it was announced that Jolie had joined the film both as a producer and as the voice of an elephant named Stella. On November 1, 2017, Prince was cast as Ruby, the baby elephant. On January 1, 2018, Ariana Greenblatt joined the cast in a live action role. [7] Producer Shearmur died on 19 January 2018. She keeps her producer credit on the film. Rockwell was cast as the titular John on February 11, 2018. Cranston was to play the circus owner, and Brigham Taylor joined as producer. [9] On March 9, 2018, Rodriguez signed off on another live action role, that of Greenblatt's character's father. On May 10, 2018, it was announced that DeVito and Mirren would speak the characters in the film, while Indira Varma and Eleanor Matsuura were added to live action roles. [12] The main photograph began on 1 May 2018 in Lakeland, Florida, with film locations including Southgate Shopping Centre and The Catholic Resurrection Church. [13] [14] Filming also took place in other parts of Polk County next month, spending $134.365 in the city. [15] Release Film was originally scheduled for theatrical release on August 14, 2020 by Walt Disney Studios Motion Pictures. [16] However, due to the impact of the COVID-19 pandemic on cinema, the theatrical release of the film was cancelled and exclusively released on Disney+ on August 21, 2020. [17] Variety reported in November that the film was the 27th most watched title to date straight up to streaming in 2020. [18] Admission to Aggregator Rotten Tomatoes, the movie has a approval rating of 70% based on 110 reviews with an average score of 6.10/10. The consensus of the website's critics is: The uncertain approach to the story's darker themes undermines its emotional roles, but The One and Only Ivan offers touching entertainment for younger viewers. [19] On Metacrique, the film has a weighted average score of 58 out of 100, based on 25 critics, suggesting mixed or average reviews. [20] Common Sense Media rated the film 4 out of 5 stars, stating: Parents need to know that The One and Only John is based on Katherine Applegate's 2013 novel about a silverback gorilla named John (voiced by Sam Rockwell), head of a strip mall circus act run by Mack (Bryan Cranston). Inspired by a true story, the film, like the book, focuses on John and his small group of fellow circus-goers. Viewers familiar with the novel should note that the screen actually mentions violence less than on the page. But the character still dies (calmly, in a dream), there is a scene of an exhausted and overworked baby elephant, and the film includes a flashback on a terrible day when John loses his family (poaching is not detailed, and while the shot is heard, that death happens off camera). The story promotes getting circus animals out of cages and into more natural habitats in zoos and cans. It also has themes of loyalty, teamwork, empathy and perseverance. The voices of Angelina Jolie, Helen Mirren, Chake Khan and Danny Devit are shown.
