Pocahontas colors of the wind lyrics tori kelly

Dip You think you own whatever land you land on Earth is just a dead thing you can claim But I know every rock and tree and creature There is a life, there is a spirit, there is a name You think the only ones who are people who look and think like you But if you walk the footsteps of a stranger You will learn things you never knew you never knew You ever heard wolves crying to the blue corn moon Or ask the bobcat laughing why he laughs? Can you sing with all the voices of the mountains? Can you draw with all the colors of the wind? Can you draw with all the colors of the wind? Come run the hidden pine trails of the forest Taste the sunsweet berries of Earth Come roll in all the wealth around you And for once, never wonder what they're worth The rainstorm and the river is my brother The Heron and the otter are my friends And we're all connected together In a circle, in a hoop that never ends You've never heard wolves crying to the blue corn moon Or let the eagle tell you where he is? Can you sing with all the voices of the mountains? Can you draw with all the colors of the wind? Can you draw with all the colors of the wind? How tall will the fig tree grow? If you cut it down, then you will never know And you will never hear wolves crying to the blue corn moon Whether we are white or bronze skin We need to sing with all the voices of the mountains We need to draw with all the colors of the wind You can own the earth and still all you will own is earth until you can draw with all the colors of the wind Writer / s: STEPHEN SCHWARTZ, ALAN MENKEN 12345 © 2021 CANCIONEROS.COM/LYRICS About Us • CANCIONEROS.COM/LYRICS • Contact us • How to Collaborate Notes • Legal Notices • Cookie Policies • Ads Follow Us • Professional Access Have a Life , there is a spirit, there is a name You think the only people who are people who look and think like you But if you walk the footsteps of a stranger You will learn things you never knew you never knew You ever heard wolves crying to the blue corn moon Or ask bobcats laughing why he laughs? You can draw with all the colors of the wind You can draw with all the colors of the high wind how the fig tree grows? If If cut it down, then you will never know And you will never hear the wolf crying to the blue corn moon Whether we are white or bronze skin We need to sing with all the voices of the mountain Need to draw with all the colors of the wind You can own the earth and still All you will own is left land until you can draw with all the colors of the wind wind
