Casinos with Real Money Slots Bonuses All our best casinos give you a bonus for playing slots online. The Welcome Bonus or Deposit Bonus is the casino's first benefit for you. Therefore, when you accept the bonus there are a few things you need to know about. Being the real money-trailing experts that we are. We'll take the case a little further. We will give you an explanation of the Expected Value or Card for ev of the bonus. This simple calculation gives you an idea whether the casino's bonus money is an advantage for you or not. Our best USA casinos online award slot bonuses of up to 500%. Back in the day, online casinos are used to give their customers whopper slot bonuses of 4000%. The licensing agencies did away with them because they felt casinos were using them as bonus traps. Calculation of Slots Bonus EV (Expected Value) Without further ado, is it an advantage to use the online casino's bonus to play real slots for money? yes, it is. But only use the bonus offers on the sites that Casinowhizz.com. When calculating the expected value of the bonus, we take into account the following: The Game's Home Advantage (%). The size of the bonus. Wagering requirement (WR). Players like to play with their own money because of the freedom it offers. But a casino bonus increases the size of your bankroll by a lot. As such, it helps you bet on higher real money bets for the bigger winnings. If you accept the Welcome Bonus for playing online slots, read the bonus terms carefully. Casino Max currently advertises a fantastic bonus of 310% up to $9,100 to play slots. This bonus promotion is available to all US and Aussie players who register via the Casinowhizz link. To best illustrate our point, we use Betsoft's Take Santa's Shop slot as an example. Now the RTP is of real money 96.08%, therefore the house edge is 3.92%. Calculate Calculate EV of the slot looks like this: Bonus Amount - (WR) x House edge = EV. If you deposit $100 the casino matches your deposit with a bonus of $300, play with $400. WR is the 30x deposit and the sum of the bonus. As we said before the edge of the house is 3.92%. Positive and Negative EV Bonus Values Calculation is $150 (bonus) - (30x $50 + $150) x 3.92% = -$85.20. The expected value for the bonus is a negative -$85.20. If the value of slots the bonus with real money gives you a negative expectation. Then the bonus is not an advantage for you when playing slots. However, the ev of this bonus is not so bad if you use our optimal slot strategy. Let's look at it from a different angle. If the casino runs a 100% match bonus with a WR of 20xb and the house edge is 2%. And, you deposit $100, you cash in on an additional bonus of $100. $100 – (20x $100) x 2% = EV of slots bonus is a profit of $60. Choose a bonus where wr is not too steep and a track with high HE. With this simple math, you can easily compare the real money games offers to casinos online. We rarely see slot bonuses today with a WR that is under 40xb. The lower the WR of the bonus the easier it is to earn on the deal. Bonuses and weekly promotions Casinos run daily promo bonuses where slots can top up their bankrolls with lots of free money. The 10 best casinos with real money provide VIPs, comps, bonuses, free spins and a cashback of up to 20%. The point is the more casino games you play for real money online, the better your benefits.
