As soon as you start a new character, you are instructed to explore a historical battle named Nerezet Foley. As a specific quest entry in your quest log explains, you will have to talk to 10 nobles. Investigate the battle Which ones, you ask? Well, it's very easy, and quite difficult. All over the world, Calradia nobles, who have something to do with Nereset Foley, lie down with a blue exclamation point next to their names. These nobles may not necessarily go beyond the quest line though. Once you have introduced yourself to these particular nobles, there is one option for dialogue highlighted in yellow. Nobles or nobles will either tell you about the battle or the revail that could tell you about it. Look for blue anclamation signs on the map Search for mentioned nobles can be done as follows: by clicking 'N', you open an encyclopedia where you can enter the noble name you are looking for. In the upper right corner of this screen you will find where this person was last seen. Travel to your last known place and work your way through 10 nobles. The first step is to complete the Mission Pointless Neretse Investigation. It consists of talking to 10 Lords about the history of Kalradiya and the Empire. But they can't be any random Lords - you have to find the right people with the right knowledge. How can I find the right Lords? Any Lord will tell you where to look for someone with information. The best way to complete Neretzes' mission to Mount and Blade 2 Bannerlord is to talk to every lord you meet. During the dialog, select an option highlighted in orange. If the Lord has the information he needs, he will just give it to you. If not, he will show a person who has such knowledge. This makes it easy to look for the Lords needed to complete the mission. In search of specific lords, you need to use the encyclopedia of the game - you can activate it using the N key. Next, enter the name of the Lord you are looking for in the search engine - in the window of the chosen Lord, you will find its last known location. Don't forget to talk to the Lords with a blue exclamation point. Traveling on the map, you should also look for lords with a blue exclamation mark. This will usually mean that a particular Lord has the right knowledge, and talking to him can bring you closer to completing the Mission of the Senseless Neretzes Investigation. Talk to Istian and Arzagos The next step will be to talk to two characters. Upon completion of the above mission, you will get two new goals - to meet Istian and meet Arzagos.
