

I'm not robot  reCAPTCHA

Continue

Trending instagram hashtags musicians

As a musician, you have blocked content and engagement. Post high-quality posts every day, and you interact with your fans and followers to the best of your ability. Still, you don't grow as fast as you want. There's only one thing to ask yourself: Do you use the best Instagram hashtags for musicians? You certainly know that doing so can attract many niche specific followers to your account. Hashtags are the way you get your posts in front of people who are actually interested in your content type. As a musician, using the right hashtags is especially important because you want to be getting your posts in front of people who can not only like your music and follow your website, but who are also likely to buy tickets, songs, merc goods, etc. Below are the best Instagram hashtags for musicians in 2020: 1. #InstaMusic 12,956,759 posts One of the best Instagram hashtags for musicians is #InstaMusic. This catch-all can apply to almost any artist, making it great to get started. 2. #InstaVideo 9,267,395 posts Need a way to promote your latest music video or excerpt from you buzzing crazy guitar solo? #InstaVideo is a great hashtag to use to get more eyes on video content. READ How do I pass on the use of AiGrow to my customers? 3. #InstaMusicVideo 9,379 posts The best Instagram hashtags for musicians don't necessarily have millions of people using them. The smaller and more specific hashtags you target, the more likely you are to be ranked Top Post because the competition is less. As above, if you have a music video that you want to share with a wider audience, use the #InstaMusicVideo. Users who follow this tag are always on the lookout for the next hottest music video to watch while riding the subway or taking a break from school. 4. #MusicMonday 610,338 posts Binding to popular hashtags is a smart way to get more eyes on your post on the days when the hashtag is most used. Try posting your latest single or behind-the-scenes look at the recording session using the #MusicMonday. 5. #InstaLove 91,560,364 posts You don't have something that's not necessarily music-specific, but you want to reach more fans? Maybe it's #RandomTalkingVideo of you talking about musicians who inspire you, or you want to share a photo where you go for musical inspiration. Use the #InstaLove hashtag to spread it widely. 6. #TBT 438,812,328 posts Also not necessarily music-specific, but ideal for switching content and showing its followers a human side. #TBT (Throwback Thursday) posts are perfect for sharing a photo of yourself karaoke as a child, playing your first gig, or sharing an excerpt from the first song you wrote. 7. #AcousticMusic 281,032 posts Is acoustic your genre of choice, or just create emotional emotional the cover of one of your favorite songs? It's a popular type of music for many Instagram users, and using this hashtag is a great way to make your song in front of a wide audience. 8. #LiveMusic 14,994,120 posts Do you want to post videos from your last concert or live performance? Include hashtag #LiveMusic, along with similar favorites such as #LivePerformance, #LiveEntertainment and #LocalMusic (for anyone who isn't a big-time star). Your viewers will feel like they can take part in your performance. it can also help them feel what your presence on stage looks like. 9. #InstaArtist 15,009,744 posts Ideal for solo acts, #InstaArtist is designed for content that focuses on a single musician. Consider attaching this hashtag to a clip you make in the studio and even singing in the car. Conclusion While the best Instagram hashtags for musicians can change from one musician to another depending on genre, instrument and audience, the above is a solid list of high-volume hashtags that are sure to benefit every musician and help get their posts in front of more potential fans and followers. Need help choosing a hashtag more specific? Watch the article below: When you have your hashtags, consider using a growth tool like AiGrow to organically grow your Instagram page even faster. AiGrow takes the hashtags you share and starts engaging only with people on Instagram using those hashtags. An example of hashtags that someone is trying to develop an Instagram fitness page would target AiGrow. For example, if you're a Toronto rapper, the obvious hashtag you want to use is #torontorap. People using this hashtag probably belong to two groups: toronto rappers themselves or toronto rap fans. The first group of people can be useful for creating collaborations, and the second group of people is probably easy to convert to fans or followers. READ HOW to instagram DM Online in 2020 (With PC, Mac, & Other Desktops)Regardless, connecting with people using the hashtag #torontorap is then a helpful hashtag for the Toronto rapper. With AiGrow, you can automatically start contacting people using the #torontorap hashtag through likes, followers, DMs and comments to get these people back to your Page. When they see that appeal to the same kind of niche that they do (#torontorap), you probably have yourself a new follower and fan-in-the-making. Try AiGrow VIP by clicking here and see the results for yourself! August 2020 Update: AiGrow now offers a great feature where you can try out your VIP service for a short period of time, paying only $1. It's amazing and I really suggest not to miss the opportunity. Want to promote your music? Musicians who try to make it great in the music industry need fans, and the best way to make it new fans is online. Streaming services like Apple Music and Spotify allow you to listen to new music every day, but to encourage listeners to use your website, you need social media exposure is a great way to reach new listeners. Hashtags on social media platforms like Instagram, Twitter, Facebook and more help users increase the visibility of their posts, bringing more traffic and musicians, more listeners and potential fans. Click here for more Instagram followers! Why use hashtags to promote music? Hashtags create a virtual online page for anyone who uses that particular hashtag in their post by grouping content based on a topic. Creating such posts makes it easier for users to find similar posts or search for certain topics on social media. For musicians, hashtags can help reach other musicians and listeners. Hashtags can bring more traffic to a music page or a specific post, leading to likes, followers and hopefully fans of their music. Music fans can search for hashtags to find new music, musicians and bands. By searching for your favorite genre or by similar artists, hashtags can lead new fans to musicians' sites and help them promote their work. Top Music Hashtags on Instagram is one of the best social media platforms for all kinds of content, including musician, artist and band sites promoting their music. Music hashtags range from millions of posts to hundreds, so there are different options for sharing music. These are the most popular music hashtags on Instagram: #Music #Artist #HipHop #Rock #Rap #Singer #DJ #Song #Band #Musician Popular music hashtags by genre The most popular music hashtags like #Music are a good place to start, but abused, generic hashtags can be overflowing with millions of posts. With so many posts under one hashtag, it's possible that your content will get lost in the crowd. The best practice when using hashtags is to use a combination of larger and smaller hashtags. Instagram allows up to 30 hashtags, and some social media gurus suggest that 11 is a magic number when it comes to hashtagging. No matter how many hashtags you choose to include, use some that are more specific to your post and that have fewer posts to compete with. You can still include popular hashtags to reach a larger audience – it's about balance. To find more specific hashtags for your content or selected music, you can search through larger hashtags or use our suggestions. Just copy and paste the entire set of hashtags by genre into the next post to with the online community of musicians and fans. General Music and Musician Hashtags If you're a musician, you can start with these generic music hashtags before you get more detailed information based on genre, style and artist. Copy and paste these music hashtags into your next post to share your music. #Musician #MusicArtist #NewMusic #NewMusic #MusicVideo #NowPlaying #MusicsLife #MusicsMyLife #MusicLover #MusicProducer #MusicFestival #UpcomingArtist #Unsigned #UnsignedArtist Pop Music Hashtags Pop Music is the most popular music of that time, covering different genres. While pop music often gets a bad rep, pop is popular for some reason. Use these pop hashtags to share your pop covers or your own pop music – just copy and paste. #Pop #PopMusic #Top40 #PartyMusic #Party #NewMusic #NewSong #Singer #Popstar #Remix #genre #NowPlaying #Radio #Hit #LatestHits #MusicVideo #PopBand #BoyBand #Popular Hip Hop Hashtags Hip-hop artists or fans can use appropriate hashtags to share or browse music online. Many hip-hop artists share their music on streaming services such as SoundCloud, Spotify and Apple Music, but promoting these songs on social media can lead users to their playlists. Try these hip-hop hashtags to share your music or find new artists. #HipHop #HipHopCulture #HipHopLife #SoundCloud #HipHopMusic #HipHopArtist #HipHopHead #HipHopLegend #HipHopBlog #HipHopNation #Mixtape #HipHopBeats #HipHopStyle #HipHopJunkie #RnB #RnBMusic #HipHopNews #HipHopDance #UnsignedArtist Rap Hashtags Rappers promote their music online and on streaming services including SoundCloud, Spotify, Tidal and others. Social media hashtags can lead users to their music pages and help them gain followers and fans by increasing their audience and driving their careers. Try using these rap music hashtags to promote your music or find your favorite new rap artist. #Rap #RapLife #Rapper #RapGod #RapCulture #Rapping #Rappers #RapArtist #RapMusic #RapBeats #SoundCloud #SoundCloudRap #SoundCloudRapper #FreestyleRap #RapGame #Beats #RapLegend #Freestyle #UnsignedArtist #Mixtape #FemaleRapper #TrapMusic #RapMusicVideo Electronic Music and EDM Hashtags EDM took over the music scene, with huge music festivals and DJs with huge fans online. For those who want to get into EDM, copy and paste these hashtags to share your music or find electronic music. #EDM #ElectronicMusic #Techno #HouseMusic #DJ #MusicFestival #Rave #RaveDance #Shuffle #DeepHouse #EDMShufflers #EDMMusic #EDMFestival #EDMLifestyle #EDMPhotos #FutureHouse #BassHouse #DeepHouseMusic #Dubstep #Electronic #EDMFamily #ElectroHouse #EDMNation Alternative Hashtags Alternative bands and artists can reach their niche online audiences, making hashtags a useful tool for alternative rockers. Try these hashtags to find new alternative music or share your own on social media to find new listeners. #Alternative #AltRock #AlternativeRock #Indie #IndependentMusic #ModernRock #Punk #PunkRock #Grunge #AlternativeRockBand #MetalRock #HeavyMetal #IndiePop #IndieMusician #IndieArtist #AlternativeMusic #AlternativeMusician #AlternativeArtist #Folk #FolkMusic #UndergroundMusic #UnsignedArtist Rock Hashtags Rock n' Roll still very lively, and rock bands can also promote their music on social media to get users to stream platforms to hear their songs. Copy and paste these hashtags to share your rock n'roll songs and lifestyle. #Rock #RocknRoll #RockAndRoll #RockBand #RockArtist #RockOn #Rocker #ClassicRock #RockStar #PunkRock #AlternativeRock #ModernRock #RockMusic #BluesRock #RockGirl #RockerChick #RockShow #HeavyMetal #Fender #Guitar #Drums #Bass #RockStyle #HardRock Country Hashtags Country Music has a huge fan experience, but many country singers, bands and artists share their music online to promote their work. If you're a country fan or artist sharing your work, copy and paste these country music hashtags. #Country #CountryMusic #CountryBand #CountryArtist #CountrySinger #CountrySong #CountryRock #CountryRadio #CountryLife #Acoustic #AcousticMusic #CountryConcert #CountryGirl #CountryBoy #CountryRoads #CountryMusicFans #CountryMusician #Bluegrass #PopCountry #CountryBlues #CountryBlues