Making Your Money LastIf you have added a dog or cat to your family, consider pet insurance to handle routine and unexpected veterinary bills. December 16, 202011 Superfoods to increase productivity at WorkbusinessWhen you are facing a busy working day, it may be too easy to make some not-so-healthy food choices between attending meetings, checking emails... December 9, 2020A Snowbird's Preflight Checklist for InsuranceMaking Your Money LastIf you spend part of the year in Florida, Arizona or any other state, seniors should follow this guidance on managing two homes in retirement... December 8, 2020 With Labor Day weekend less than a week away, we need to face the truth: we're not ready to say goodbye to summer yet. The warm, balmy days that brought us many trips to the beach, glasses of rosé and breathtaking sunsets are simply too sweet to stop. So what's one to do when summer Fridays are over and the temperature slowly starts to drop? Plan a well-deserved vacation, of course. Saying goodbye to summer is much less bittersweet with a final hurrah—one that involves many poolside days and soaking up every single ray of sunshine. To make booking this important getaway a little easier, we rounded up the most idyllic hotel pools in regions where the weather stays a little warmer a little longer. Want to escape to the French Riviera, the coast of Mexico or the vast Utah desert? Look no further than these dreamy hotels that guarantee nothing but long, lazy poolside days, balmy nights, and a healthy tan to last well into autumn. We bet you can't get to the bottom without booking your next vacation. Grand Hotel Tremezzo One of the oldest and most iconic hotels on Lake Como, The Grand Hotel Tremezzo was the first in the area to install a floating pool atop the lake. The hotel's second swimming pool, the Piscina dei Fiori, is equally dreamy, as it is set in lush gardens at the top of the hillside, providing unrivalled views of the lake and historic hotel architecture. You will be hard pressed to find a more idyllic Italian getaway. Camilla Chinese Whispers Embellished Printed Silk Crepe de Chine Mini Dress $450 Shop Lucy Williams Cuixmala is one of a kind. The Moonian-inspired property was once a billionaire's private Mexican retreat and has 25,000 acres of lush grounds filled with zebras and antelopes. Perhaps one of the most impressive parts of this unique resort is the checkered saltwater pool by the beach, which can be reached via a majestic ochre staircase. Crap Will Gift $58 Shop Lucy Williams The of-the-moment South France hotspot Les Roches Rouges features not one but two two Pools. One has a narrow swimming track, while the other has a large seawater pool carved directly into the coastal cliff. Both overlook the turquoise waters of the Côte d'Azur and provide plenty of space. If the sea is more your speed, you can also take a dip in the Mediterranean sea by going down a few steps on a ladder on the pier. Zara Maxi Raffia Basket $56 Shop @sarahshemansamuel For thrill seekers and luxury lovers, Amangiri is the perfect launch pad for desert adventures. The Utah resort is halfway between eco-friendly experience and ultimate indulgence. The minimal architecture blends into the rocky backdrop, and the dramatic pool is carved around a large rock of stone, with individual daybed platforms seemingly floating in the water. Best of all, the desert location means you can extend the summer to the fullest. The Soho House Rooftop Pool at Soho House in Barcelona is the latest from the private club group—with its signature wide-striped sun loungers and unbeatable views of the Spanish metropolis below. It's the ideal place to sip and mingle before heading out for a late night of tapas and dancing. If big cities are more your speed, this is the place to be to keep summer going a little further. @maradentroCabo Cabo's Mar Adentro is undoubtedly one of the most impressive resorts to open in the past year. Now in its second phase of expansion, the minimal property is built around water. The reflecting pools surrounding the hotel's whitewashed buildings are more than just aesthetically pleasing—they also double the desalination structure that provides water to the entire hotel. The whole property is a true feast for the eyes. Kayu St Tropez Tote Bag $125 $121 Shop Hôtel du Cap Eden-Roc As far as famous swimming pools go, few are more iconic than the Antibes Hôtel du Cap Eden-Roc's cliffside pool. Photographed over and over again by the famous photographer Slim Aarons, it attracted a parade of famous names—from Fitzgerald and Hemingway to the Kennedys and the Royal British Family. The heated saltwater pool is cut into the cliff edge, offering unrivalled views of the Mediterranean Sea and the French Riviera. Do we need to say more? Tabitha Simmons Cleo Polka-Dot Bow Slides $410 Shop Surfjack Get Your Instagram Feed Ready-Honolulu's Surfjack Hotel and Swim Club is an ideal photo op waiting to happen. With clues from vintage 1960s Hawaii, the pool's bottom is painted with the famous Wish You Were Here slogan that graced postcards from that time. The rest of the hotel is no less idyllic—a true celebration of Hawaiian hospitality, the 112-room hotel is relaxed and authentic. Aloha!
