In a nutshell about Amigo Pancho it's a game of about 40MB pure fun, very interesting where you should help our dear Mexican friend Pancho swim up and up to the very top of the mountain using his handful of floating balloons. Wisely, you should help Pancho sort out all obstacles and avoid every sharp object threatened by pop stocking balloons. Be careful along the way you will find all sorts of crazy things like very angry fighters, flying knives, thorny cactus, saws, and more. Usually there are no big risks for Pancho and his balloons at first levels, as you can see on our Amigo Pancho passing, so you can sort out all the dangers and obstacles quite easily at least to level 15, which in my personal opinion is when it becomes more and more challenging to get our friend and his balloons safely and sound on top of the mountain , from there you have to plan each movement very carefully. Not everything is perfect we think some levels on amigo Pancho passing get too complicated a way and there's not even a tiny clue as to what to do, so that's what developers should work and also have this error that makes the application suddenly close, without warning ... Nothing. But overall it's a big game, simple but well thought out, each level leaves you with an expectation of what might come up next. Also has good graphics, lovely characters, very family friendly and not violent at all. Amigo Pancho walkthrough, a great game for school-age kids as it enhances their skills, abilities and logic.
