Tap your Apple ID avatar located in the upper right corner of the screen #3: From the menu list, tap Subscriptions #4: Under Active subscription, find and tap an Apple Music membership. #5: Tap cancel #6: Tap Confirm to cancel your subscription. Use Mac © Photo from support.apple.com #1: Start iTunes on your Mac. #2: On the app's home screen, click Account on the menu bar. #3: Click 'View my account' in the pop-up menu. #4: Sign in with your Apple ID and password. #5: Under Settings, locate the Subscription, and then click Manage #6: Find your Apple Music subscription, and then click Edit. #7: Click Cancel subscription and confirm cancellation. How to download free Apple Music Do you plan to stop your Apple Music subscription after the three-month trial? Do you want to download tunes during the trial period? If your answer to these questions is 'YES' but don't know how to do it as such, read the step-by-step guide below and start converting your favorite tracks for keeps. Method #1: Removing DRM using Apple Music Converters/Downloaders One of the best ways to keep apple music is by using Apple Music Downloader/Converter. In general, all Apple Music songs have Digital Rights Management (DRM) protection in M4P format. This means that you can't share or transfer songs to other devices. You'll also lose all songs in your Apple Music library when you stop writing off signing in to the service. Fortunately, the following software will help you remove DRM protection and convert tunes to MP3 for greater freedom and convenience. 1. Apple Music Converter Apple Music Converter is designed to remove DRM protection from M4P songs, playlists and other audio on PC and Mac. It converts songs into DRM-free MP3, FLAC, AAC, or WAV format so you can do whatever you want with your melody without restrictions. What's more, you can also maintain apple music audio quality after conversion. Step-by-step instructions on how to use Apple Music Converter: #1: Open your browser and install Apple Music Converter. #2: After installation, run the software and iTunes will automatically appear. #3: Click the playlist on the left and select the songs you want to convert. #4: When you're done selecting songs, go to Output Settings and select MP3 as the output format. #5: Click Convert to convert songs to unprotected audio files. #6: To check your tracks, click on 'History' and select 'Open output file.' Apple Music Converter is a free download, however it requires users to make a one-time purchase of software worth $39.95 USD to unlock premium features. 2. DRmare Apple Music Downloader Similar to Apple Music Converter, DRmare Apple Music Downloader allows you to save Apple music to your computer by removing DRM protection. Touts up to 30X-faster speed conversion help you save time when downloading bulk tunes. You can convert your songs to MP3, M4A, M4B, AAC, WAV, FLAC as well. Step-by-step instructions on how to use DRmare Apple Music Downloader: #1: Since DRmare doesn't download music directly from Apple Music, you need to sync Apple Music songs to your iTunes library. #2: After loading, select the songs you want to convert by dragging songs from the iTunes library to the DRmare software. Just make sure to share an iTunes XML file with third party software in iTunes for a smooth experience. #3: Select the output format. After selecting, click OK and proceed to the next step. #4: Check the songs again and press the 'Convert' button to remove drn protection. #5: Enjoy the music. DRmare Apple Music Downloader is free to download on its official website and is available for both Mac and Windows. However, you must purchase the software to access the full conversion features. 3. Sidify Apple Music Converter © Photo by sidify.com Sidify Apple Music Converter is a powerful software that renders a wide range of conversion capabilities. Through it, you can convert M4P tunes to MP3, AAC, FLAC or WAV format for offline playback without a complicated process. All you have to do is select the songs you want to convert, choose the output format, and then press Convert. In addition, you can also share your converted songs with friends by uploading them to OneDrive or Google Drive. In this way, you can access your songs anywhere without a computer. The software is free to download on its official website. However, a one-time purchase worth $39.95 USD is a must for you to take advantage of premium features like burning Apple Music to a CD. The #2 method: Record Apple Music songs Now you probably have an idea of how to convert free Apple Music using conversion software. While the method is undeniably easy to follow, it may not just match your preferences. In this case, you might want to see how apple music is recorded. 1. Apowersoft Streaming Audio Recorder © Screenshot by apowersoft.com Apowersoft Streaming Audio Recorder is a simple recording program that comes with excellent editing and recording features. It has been rated as one of the most beneficial audio recorders on the Internet because you can record any song playing on your computer with great ease. You can also choose the output audio format from MP3, AAC, FLAC, WMA and more. Step-by-step instructions on how to use Apowersoft Streaming Audio Recorder: #1: Install the software on your computer. To download, click here. #2: After installation, run the program. #3: In the main program window, first adjust the settings before use to match your ideas. Click the Settings icon and you'll see three tabs: General Settings, Upload Settings, and Download Settings. #4: According to the general you can customize the recording keyboard shortcuts for easy navigation during the process. #5: Under Record settings, select System Sound if you want to record Apple Music songs while streaming them. TIP: You can record computer audio using System Sound. 'Microphone,' on the other hand, captures your own voice and singing using a microphone, while 'System Sound and Microphone' allows you to record computer sound and your voice at the same time. #6: Next, identify ID3 tags by entering the name of the song, singer, etc. #7: #8: After adjusting the recording settings, go to Download Settings and set your preferred output directory. #9: To record your melody, play the song and click on the red round bottom in the lower left corner of the main interface to start recording. 2. Audials Tunebite Platinum © Photo by audials.com Another major software that records free Apple Music is Audials Tunebite Platinum. Packed with extensive features, this program allows you to record protected music streams from all online music platforms with automatic addition of ID3 tags and albums for recorded songs. In addition, you can also record protected streams for movies and TV series from online media libraries and store them on your personal viewing device. What more could you ask for, right? Step-by-step instructions on how to use Audials Tunebite Platinum: #1: Install the software. #2: After installation, run the program. #3: From the list of programs displayed on the software's home screen, select apple music #4. Go to the Apple Music streaming service and play the songs you want to capture. #5: After playback, songs are automatically uploaded and saved as MP3 on your computer. You can try the program for free, and if you like, a full license will cost you $34.90. Method #3: Loading downloaded songs into your Apple Music Library 1. Freemake Youtube on MP3 Boom © Photo freemake.com Listen to music recorded on Youtube is every kind of past time. So if you ever find a tune that definitely meets your grooves, feel free to convert the video to MP3 using Freemake Youtube on MP3 Boom. This online tool simply grabs the Youtube link and converts it to free Apple Music. To add converted Youtube music to your Apple Music library: #1: Find the music you want to download on Youtube. #2: Copy the link and paste it into the appropriate freemake file. #3: Hit 'Convert' and wait for the music to finish downloading. #4: After downloading, open the iTunes menu located in the upper-right corner of the screen. #5: On the drop-down menu, click Add File. #6: Then search for the songs you want to add. #7: Sync iTunes files with Apple Music and start listening to songs you've uploaded. 2. Torrent download back days when music streaming services have not yet been a hit, people would download songs from torrenting sites and load them into their music players. Torrenting may not be the primary choice in today's generation of music and movie streaming services, but that doesn't mean that torrents are out of style. In fact, downloading files from torrent sites is a quick way to fully own them for free. Be careful, though, for some files they may contain malware and viruses, so make sure you scan them before running/installing them. How to add downloaded torrent music files to apple music library: #1: Download any music file from any torrent site (you can try uttorrent.com). #2: When the download process is complete, right-click the file and select Add to Library and choose Apple Music from the list. Apple Music & iTunes Match: The Difference © Photo by m4vgear.com After Apple Music is released, people are starting to get in the way of Apple Music and iTunes Match because they both give you access to a large catalog of songs. While Apple claims that Apple Music and iTunes Match are independent but complementary, the thin line that separates between the two licenses. In Apple Music, songs are protected by DRM, which makes them the exclusive feature of the service. This means that you can no longer access tunes that you downloaded to your device after your subscription expires. On the other hand, iTunes Match allows you to save and keep tracks that you've downloaded even if your subscription disappears. This is because once you download iTunes music, you automatically get a license to own it as well. iTunes supports many devices, including a huge library of Songs similar to Apple Music and other streaming platforms. Apple Music vs Spotify Apple Music offers you 50 million songs + 30 million songs + Annual schedule $99 USD per year $99 USD per year Music quality -256 kbps and -320 kbps Supported platforms/devices All Apple devices (Phone, iPad, Apple Watch, Apple TV, Homepod), PC, Android devices with Apple Music App, Sonos, Amazon-branded Echo Devices Windows, Mac, Linux (Preview), iOS (iPhone and iPod touch), Android, Windows Phone 7, BlackBerry and Symbian + Disclaimer: This guide is not promotional or promotional sponsorship.
