

I'm not robot

Continue

Mini arcade two player games xbox one

Donovan Wilson has known an eight-year-old girl since birth. Apple has started taking smaller commissions from some of its App Store Small Business Program participants, according to AppleInsider. The tech giant introduced the program in November, offering developers who earn less than $1 million a year a way to halve app store fees. Instead of paying a 30 percent commission, participants will have to pay only 15 percent for in-app sales and purchases. Ten people were assessed by paramedics after a nearly drowning incident on the Sunshine Coast on Christmas Day.Hong Kong extended mandatory quarantine to three weeks for almost all international travellers from Friday, saying the measure was needed to prevent the spread of new, more infectious, coronavirus variants. Australian Associated PressParis Saint-Germain striker Kylian Mbappe has thanked coach Thomas Tuchel for his time at the club following reports of the sacking of the German coach. Residents are warned to watch out for falling iguanas as temperatures drop as low as -1C. Japan aims to eliminate gasoline-powered vehicles over the next 15 years, the government said Friday in a plan to achieve net-zero carbon emissions and generate nearly $2 trillion a year in green growth by 2050. The green growth strategy, aimed at the hydrogen and automotive industries, is to be an action plan to implement Prime Minister Yoshihide Suga's October commitment to eliminate net carbon emissions by the middle of the century. Suga has made green investment a top priority to help revive the economy affected by the COVID-19 pandemic and align Japan with the European Union, China and other economies by setting ambitious emissions targets. Australian Associated Press Two more franchises are to be introduced to the mega-rich Indian Premier League in 2022. (Bloomberg) - New York State's Covid-19 cases reached a new monthly high and the Greater Los Angeles area had record fatalities and hospitalizations. The total number of cases in Italy has exceeded 2 million, and South Korea is facing a serious outbreak in prison. Brazil found that the effectiveness of Sinovac Biotech was less than 90%, although data is still being collected, which raises questions about its effectiveness compared to competing shots offered by companies such as Pfizer Inc. and Moderna Inc. Studies have shown that the variant is 56% more infectious than other strains, although there is no clear evidence that it causes more or less serious diseases. Key changes: Global Tracker: 79.3 million cases pass; deaths exceed 1.74 millionSoutheast Asian vaccine rollout: Who will get what when the world's most disgusted industry vaccines in record timeNurses celebrating Covid-19 vaccines fight social media contemptRozki farms in 13D apartment show scale scale fraudThe year we were hot for supercold freezersWhat you need to know about the second stimulus payment: QuickTakeSubscribe for daily update on the virus from Bloomberg's Prognosis team here. Click the CVID button on the terminal to get global data on coronavirus cases and deaths. Chinese vaccine less than 90% Effective in Brazil (12:35 p.m. Hong Kong)Trials of the vaccine Sinovac Biotech Ltd. in Brazil and Turkey suggest that the shot has a protection index on both sides of 90%, which means that there is still no definitive assessment of how effective it is in protecting people from Covid-19.The company is finalizing the results of phase III studies from two countries, along with Indonesia and Chile, a known person said. The shot did not achieve 90% effectiveness in late-stage research. Sao Paulo's secretary of state health said, a result that would make it less effective than those from Pfizer and Moderna. Turkey said the shot study showed an estimated success rate of 91.25%, but it was based on only 29 cases, too little for the final conclusion, the person said. The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention now requires air passengers arriving from the U.S. to get a negative polymerase chain reaction or antigen test no more than 72 hours before leaving, according to a statement from the U.S. authority..m The order will enter into force on December 28. Virus stretches Japan's power grid (12:10 p.m. Hong Kong) Power supplies in Japan are tense as demand for heat surges from people opening windows to stop the spread of the virus in winter. Train operators, shops and other facilities are advised to increase ventilation to prevent the spread of infection. But the cold spell leads to unusually high demand for heating, just as generators reduce production as the holidays begin, said Ryoichi Kunimatsu, spokesman for the Japan Electric Power Exchange.Japan's electricity prices rose to their highest level since trading began in 2005 on the stock market. The 24-hour average spot electricity price for December 26 delivery jumped 144.5% to 35.83 yen per kilowatt hour on Friday. China Undertakes Mass Testing in Dalian (10:40 Hong Kong)China reported seven confirmed Covid-19 cases as of Thursday, all from the northeastern coastal city of Dalian. One of them was reclassified as a confirmed case after an infected person developed symptoms. China classifies covid patients as confirmed cases only after the onset of symptoms, otherwise classifying them as asymptomatic. Dalian and Beijing reported an asymptomatic case. Dalian mobilized hospitals and third-party research services to test up to 200,000 people a day, and tested 2.13 million people as of 6 p.m. Wednesday, local health authorities said.L.A. Record Fatalities, Hospitalations (9:20 a.m. Hong Kong)The Greater Los Angeles area, ktory ma ma infections and deaths, the number of deaths and hospitalisations has been reported. A person now dies every 10 minutes in Los Angeles County from Covid-19, said Barbara Ferrer, the county's director of public health. The county added 148 new deaths, a total of 9,299, while the number of cases increased by 13,678 to 677,299 - one in 15 people. The number of hospitalizations increased to 6499. Local ambulance services and hospitals are too capacity, the health ministry said. There are no signs of an end in sight to the current increase. Health officials also asked residents to worship through streaming services or outdoor services - even after changing the order over the weekend to allow internal services to comply with Supreme Court rulings. South Korea faces an explosion in prison (9:15 a.m. Hong Kong)South Korea has reported a record 1,241 new cases of coronavirus in the past 24 hours, according to the Korea Control and Prevention Agency, with the total number of deaths rising 17 to 773.There has been a major outbreak at Seoul's Dongbu Detention Center, Yonhap News reported, citing Prime Minister Chung Sye-kyun. There were 288 cases at the facility. South Korea tests 110,000 people a day. Beijing tells officials to lead by example in the New Year (8:45 a.m. Hong Kong) Beijing city is asking government officials to set an example and stay in the capital for the coming new year and Chinese lunar new year vacation, according to a viral labor control meeting held on Thursday. All citizens are encouraged to stay where they are for the holidays. The city reported two local asymptomatic cases this week. Sydney's Cluster Growing to 108 Cases (8:40 a.m. Hong Kong)The cluster of Covid-19 infections in North Sydney Beaches has risen to 108, with authorities urging people to restrict their traffic across the city and avoid crowded Boxing Day shopping sales. The state of New South Wales recorded seven new cases last night, with four related to the cluster, Premier Gladys Berejiklian said. Health officials are concerned that infected people visited bars and catering courts in the central business district in the days before Christmas and are urging people who have participated in these places to isolate and test themselves. Please avoid CBD where you can and if you have to go to the CBD and you have to go shopping, make sure you're wearing a mask and you're socially distanced, said Berejiklian. Florida New Cases Rise Above 13,000 (5:19 p.m. NY)Florida's rebirth of Covid-19 continued to escalate, as there were 13,147 new infections, among the highest pandemics. It was the second time in a week with infections above 13,000. The state record was set in mid-July, during the summer wave, with more than 15,000 cases per day. Bonfires at Colorado In-N-Out Burger (4:35 p.m. NY) At least 80 employees at two newly opened In-N-Out Burgers Burgers facilities positive result, the Denver Post reported, citing state data. The two points were opened on November 20. One in Aurora reported 20 confirmed cases on December 17, and another 16 probable. Another in Colorado Springs had 60 confirmed cases on December 6 with another nine suspects, he told the newspaper. We continue to work closely with our public health agencies and confirm appropriate steps to help protect our communities, the network's statement reads. He said he was reducing the number of employees, allowing only takeaways and ensuring physical distance. Tony Robbins accused of forcing a sick employee back after Covid-19 (4:11 p.m. NY) Lifestyle and business guru Tony Robbins was sued in Federal Court in New York by an employee who says that Robbins' company refused reasonable improvements as she recovered from Covid-19 and that Robbins took advantage of her situation to promote herself. Despina Kosta, who worked for Robbins Research International for 18 years, most recently as a personal performance specialist, sued Robbins, his wife and his corporation after she said she was hospitalized and placed on a ventilator after getting infected with the virus. She said the company tried to shorten her recovery time and was urging people to isolate and test themselves. Minnesota Passes 5,000 Deaths (3:51 p.m. NY) Minnesota surpassed 5,000 deaths on Thursday as it reported another 79 deaths. The state recorded nearly 1,400 deaths in December, the deadline month by far in a pandemic. Like most states in the Midwest, cases and hospitalizations increased this fall in Minnesota, but have been on an overall decline. The fatalities, however, come later and seem to have peaked in Minnesota only in the last few days, according to data from the Covid Tracking Project.UK Milton Keynes Testing Lab suffering an epidemic. Sky Reports (3:20 p.m. NY) Covid-19 cases were reported in employees at Milton Keynes Lighthouse Laboratory. Sky News said, citing an employee at the facility who requested anonymity and a spokesman for the Department of Health and Human Services. The cases were reported in three of the four test teams and among the administrative and warehouse staff on site. Sky said, noting that the number of people affected is unknown. About 20 people in one 70-person lab team are currently isolating, according to an employee who cited concerns that rules put in place to ensure worker safety were broken to meet test goals. Pompeo's wife tested positive in spiked cases (3 p.m. NY)Wife of Secretary of State Michael Pompeo tested positive for coronavirus, according to people familiar with the matter, after the couple found criticized for organizing parties at the State Department, despite a nationwide spike in Covid-19 cases. It was not immediately clear how Susan Pompeo contracted the virus, though she tested positive just before her husband announced on December 16th that he was going into quarantine for exposure, told people who asked not to be identified discussing a private matter. The State Department did not specify who exposed the top U.S. diplomat to the virus, though he said he tested negatively. California Cases Exceed 2 Million (2:53 p.m. NY) California added 39,070 cases, the first state to exceed 2 million infections. There were also 351 new deaths for a total of 23,635.The state's positive test reached 12.4%, the highest since the April peak. The number of available beds in the intensive care unit hovered near record lows with more than half of the state's supply fully undertaken as hospitalizations rose to a new high.U.S. With deaths expected to reach nearly 420,000 by mid-January, CDC Projects (2:19 p.m. NY) U.S. could reach as many as 419,000 Covid-19 deaths by January 16, the Centers for Disease Control said in a forecast based on projections from 36 modeling groups. The lower part of the forecast is 378,000 deaths. The total number of deaths in the U.S. since the onset of the pandemic are now more than 327,000, according to data collected by Johns Hopkins University.French Cases Jump; Vaccinations begin Sunday (1:20 p.m. NY)New cases of the virus in France jumped by 21,634 in the last 24 hours, according to data from Sante Publique France. That's the biggest one-day increase since November 20. But the test positivity rate is steadily declining, and now stands at 3.8%, down from 6.4% on December 8.The French rushed to test the pre-holiday season and family gatherings. The French National Health Authority on Thursday approved the use of Pfizer-BioNTech against Covid-19 for people aged 16 years and older. The vaccination campaign begins on Sunday in Sevrans near Paris and Dijon.N.Y. Cases in the December Hit Record (1:14 p.m. NY) New York State Covid-19 cases reached a new monthly high. The state published more than 236,000 cases in December, more than the previous high of 224,602 reported in April, data show. New York City, the early center of the epidemic in the U.S., is experiencing a resurgence with cooler weather and vacations. There have been more than 12,000 cases a day twice in the past week. His hospitalization rose to 6,928 on December 23, from 3,924 on Dec. 1.U.K. Vaccinated more than 600,000 (1:07 p.m. NY)The United Kingdom said it administered the first dose of pfizer/biontech vaccine to 616,933 people between December 8 and December 20, with nursing home residents, people aged 80 and over, as well as health and social workers among the recipients. The vaccination rate will increase in the coming weeks as more doses become available and vaccine candidates from manufacturers such as Moderna and AstraZeneca get approval, the government's Department of Health &amp; Human Services said in a statement. Country 40 million doses Pfizer/BioNTech vaccine, which requires two doses.N.Y.C. Hospitalizations Highest since May (11:28 a.m. NY)New York City hospitals continue to report an increase in Covid-19 caseloads, reaching its highest level since late May with 2,337 patients as of Tuesday, compared with 2,241 the previous day, nearly triple the number reported since November 22, according to state health department data. Among city residents, 3.36 people per 100,000 were hospitalized as of Tuesday, an increase from 3.19 the previous day, and the new daily hospitalizations for seven days average was 201, just above the city's 200-patient hospital capacity warning threshold, the city's health department reported. The seven-day positive test for the virus was 6.29%, exceeding the 5% threshold for public health warnings. Although the newly reported cases decreased to 2,890 from a 3,308-day average, this may be due to a delay in data collection, said health department spokesman Patrick Gallagher. The numbers are potentially influenced by external factors and there is a delay for some indicators, he said. We continue to urge New Yorkers to take precautions to stay safe. Germany identifies a case of virus mutation in the UK (11:02 a.m. NY)Germany has identified its first case of a variant of coronavirus that has appeared in the UK, which may be more transmitted than other strains. The variant, known as B.1.1.7, was discovered in a woman who travelled to Baden-Württemberg from London via Frankfurt on December 20, according to a spokesman for the state health ministry. The woman showed mild symptoms and isolated along with three others with whom she had come into contact, he added. Italy Passes 2 Million Cases (10:55 a.m. NY) Italy exceeded 2 million cases of the virus Thursday, with 18,040 new infections and 505 deaths reported. The positive test rate rose to 9.3% from 8.3%, while the number of deaths remains in line with previous days. French Macron no longer shows symptoms (5:48 p.m. HK)French President Emmanuel Macron no longer shows signs of Covid-19, his office said in a statement. Macron is still working through all his illness and will remain in isolation for another seven days, the Elysee Palace said. Macron tested positive on December 17. New Virus Strain's Transmissibility to Cause More Deaths (5:25 p.m. HK)The mutant coronavirus strain that spreads across the UK appears to be more contagious and is likely to lead to higher levels of hospitalisation and deaths next year, a new study has found. The variant is 56% more transmitted than other strains, according to a study by the Centre for Mathematical Modeling of Infectious Diseases at the London School of Hygiene and Tropical Medicine. There is no clear evidence that this causes less or less severe illness. The France-UK border will remain open through Christmas (4:42 (4:42 a.m. HK)The UK and France have agreed to keep the key Dover-Calais trade

