Don't hesitate to share your feedback with us via a support@apalon.com. If you're something like us, you have to drink more water, hit the gym, get a good night's sleep and read more. Everyone wants to be their best selves, but how are you supposed to keep up with all that stuff? We'll give you a tip — you look at it. Smart memories, motivational metrics, and an easy-to-navigate interface make this information incredibly useful—and the wonderful Apple Watch implementation doesn't hurt either. This app has helped me, far more than any other on the App Store, to take control of my life. It was especially useful in creating a healthy lifestyle, and getting depressed habits that I've never been able to conquer. The liability the program brings is one that lacks in print. If you end up unable to complete a habit, you don't get negative feedback. Most habit-forming apps on the App Store have negative feedback when you can't meet your goals, which can quickly become frustrating and cause more self-criticism. Other apps on the market will send an unpleasant amount of memories, which eventually becomes easy to ignore. Rather the app uses so much, or so little, than you like. You can choose which days of the week and what time of day the habits should be completed The Premium feature allows you to create as many habits as you like and access more fun settings. For me, the amount I paid for the annual subscription was worth it for the changes I've seen in my life. The only problems I found are in the weekly section. You don't get the option to choose the day of the week for habits in the weekly tab. I have a plant every two weeks I have water, always on Saturday's, but there is currently no way to specify this option. Because I can't find any other problems, and because of the personal help this information provided, I give it 5 stars. Thank you so much for your honest review! We are happy to know that you find our program so useful! As for the weekly section issue - when creating a habit, you can choose Daily section and choose the necessary day of the week.

Unfortunately, this can only work if you want a habit to be repeated every week on the same day. Hope it helps and thanks for using our app. I'm 16 and I have this app to keep up with tasks and other daily habits that I often forget. That's exactly what I needed. I'm not trying to schedule my day off after the minute or even the hour. And I needed an app flexible enough that as long as I finished my habit that day, it doesn't break my streak but still keeps certain habits for certain times of the day. I like that you can schedule an individual habit for multiple times a day instead of creating the same habit 3 times, each time you schedule a different time. I also enjoy how customizable it is, how you can choose the icon, color, and order of the habits. My favorite thing about the program is the general scheduling. There are 3 times to schedule a habit of; morning, noon and evening. And you can choose between what times each applies. Even if I miss a habit during its schedules time, it's not counted as missed until the day is over, which keeps my motivation for the stripes up. It's the perfect level of simplicity for me. My only complaint is that I have to pay a subscription for more habits! I don't really care about whatever comes with premium. I love this app and that's exactly what I need, but I can't pay a subscription. If it was a one-time fee for premium forever, then I could do it. Even if it was $20 as long as it was only once. Otherwise, this app is just about perfect for me. It's a pleasure for us to know that the app meets your expectations!
