Play, watch and share your game in Gameroom.Available for Windows 7 and later This week I got a nice surprise when I found out that Pixonic launched the game for PC through the GameRoom platform on Facebook. How to launch War Robots on PC: Some of us have already used BlueStacks, which works fine but makes the overall performance of my PC go to hell. I tried gameroom, it's easy to install, use and it looks good. The only CON is that I have to start from scratch??? People are not going to use it unless they can use their old hangars. I know that across platforms it would take a huge amount of work (I'm a programmer, far from expert, but I can imagine). So what do you think guys? A cross-platform WR is going to be possible at any time in the future? Page 2 (Other) 9 comments Is there a way to sync your google play account to your Facebook game room account? (Note: My google play account on my phone is associated with my fb too)
