Meaning Sin pijamaWhat does Sin pijama mean? Below you will find a meaning for the word Sin pijama You also have a definition of Sin pijama itself 4 0'Sin is a Spanish word that means something is missing. This word also means in absence or without the presence of anyone or anything. It is also usually used for something that is not included, an example would be: This is the price without taxes. In Spanish is very common when there is a verb in infinitive, 'Sin' means 'No' 'With its participle or run, would be an example: I left without eating. The word "pijama" is also a Spanish word, it refers to sleepwear. So the correct translation into English of Sin Pijama is without pajamas or no pajamas. This is also the name of a reggaeton song by Becky G and Natti Natasha, in this context 'sin pijama' song or without pajamas to a proposal to stay at home without worries, a kinky night without clothes, because they do not sleep, so there is no need for pajamas. In principle, the are making a proposal for a man to invite him to invite them to his place. They often said that if the guy calls them, they will go together and spend the night without clothes. The girls often said they lose control and sleep with him. Also, they will smoke weed all night without pajamas. Of course, the meaning of the song can be used as a kinky message for someone who wants to invite you to his or her place. The lyrics begin as a description of two young girls having a pijama party and sending the event to the male singer, Prince Roy, at the beginning of the song. At the end the girls just woke up and realize that the guy they called at the beginning is calling them back. Therefore, all the video was just an illusion because the singers had a real pijama party with many of their girlfriends and no men. All the song was like an idea what it will be like if the guy called them and invited them to his place instead of the boring pajama party they had. It is suppose then Prince Royce saw all the video and call them back at the end of the video accepting the proposal, but the girls are just in a normal pijama party with mask and environment by many of their girlfriends. << El Farsante Siguelo Bailando >> >>
