Like many of the other MobilityWare card games you can play the daily challenge to get a crown and recently added daily tasks that are fun. Fun card game. But as a suggestion to developers what I would really love to see is to be able to get the Daily Crown for all 4 versions of the daily challenge. This is if you choose 1, 2, 3, or 4 costumes under the options it will give you a daily challenge with so many costumes. So there are actually 4 different daily challenges each day depending on how many costumes you have chosen as your default, but you can only win the crown once a day, so you have to choose one and play it. But it would be fun to get a double, triple or quadruple crown depending on whether you could beat all the costume options in one day (that's to play the one costume daily challenge game get a crown, now go down the options in two suits, play the daily challenge in two suits and get the crown and so on.) I just think it would be a fun challenge - how many of us could get defeated all 4 for I don't know. Hi, thanks for the review. We appreciate your suggestion on the Daily Challenge! We are also pleased to hear that you continue to enjoy our app. If you have any questions or comments, please contact us. Thanks for the game! Sometimes I get stuck in the transition from Mobility Ware to the game, and it just sits there for maybe a flat 20 seconds. Then, when you load a game, you'll have to wait another 20 seconds before you can start moving. Around. Then if you go to another app or really don't even have to go to another app. If you press the home button, then press back on spider solitaire, it will still make you wait about 20 seconds before allowing you to do anything but maybe just be out of the game for less than a second. It's annoying when you leave for a split second to reply to someone, then go back to the solitaire app, you have to wait before you can do anything and by the time you can, your friend has already texted you back. Sometimes, if you have left the application for more than a few seconds, then the entire application restarts and you have to wait for the whole loading process again and everything. However, I haven't found another solitaire format that I like best and this is the only game I found that works in portrait mode. Just get rid of the bugs!!! If other apps can respond immediately after returning to the app after a short second, then so can a simple card game. Hi chsufivkak, Thank you for your comments. We'd like to understand why you're running the issues with our game so that we can prevent it from happening in the future! Open the Game Settings page, select Support, and then contact us so our team can get more information about the device you're using. We look forward to hearing from you! I understand the need for ads, and a pop-up between hands showing other games Mobility makes is FINE. I'd still be willing to check one out if it looked neat. Then the animated ads with audio started, and you have to watch for a while before an X seems to close them. This went even further, as the ads would randomly put the X at different angles so you never know where to look, and even then sometimes the X either won't work at all, or clicking on it will open the app store in the game. This is ridiculous waiting 30+ seconds for ads that you can't close between each hand. I play games like this to relax, and this bs is far from relaxing. A tip to help put your phone/tablet into flight mode really brought these types of ads to a standstill with only single-frame ads that you can simply close. Yay until a few months ago, when this suddenly started causing problems with a hand being treated. There's a long pause before anything happens, then an ad of a frame where clicking on X gray out, and another long pause before closing. I've spent over five minutes dealing with it trying to play a hand frickin. I'm done. You will never download another mobility game. Hello unohav_1. Please consider that our game studio is based on revenue from the aesths, so that we are able to provide high quality games at absolutely no cost! All we ask is for users to watch a short ad that should be very simple to close. Please do not hesitate to contact us if you are experiencing technical advertising problems so that we can help you! In addition, we also offer an in-app Premium Upgrade which will remove ads in the puzzle if you prefer to play without ads! I hope we review and continue playing our puzzle game!
