Visit the Winter Festival hut and the donated pine tree that appeared next to the city, and delight in the festivities with your teammates! When it first came out on the App Store, I played rules of survival. R.O.S died, however, and the game became laughing glee and laughing glee, so I switched to PUBG Mobile. I knew in advance that my first few games were going to be completely or almost entirely bots, so I didn't really feel accomplished with my first few wins. As I've played the game more and more, fewer and fewer clashes are included in games, and I haven't won so often. But even in high games there are still bots, and they can get very annoying. For example, if you're in a building for more than five minutes, you'll have a bot outside and circle the building until you kill it. It can give away your position and can get you killed. I only have one other problem with this game, and it's trying to get the app fully loaded. I have an iPhone 6, and it can take up to ten tries to get the app up and running. A lot of the time the game will freeze on the tencent logo and not go anywhere. Sometimes the game will only crash mid-load. The control updates and load screens can also freeze and crash the game. Oddly, once in the game it runs very well. It's just the drawer in the app is hard. That's what led to the four star review. I really love this game, especially given the options to improve the sound and graphic quality. Pretty much everything about this game is great except a few things, there's really no because I have items for a limited time in your inventory that are kind of irrelevant, the fact that that spending tons of money to have those items or any item permanently is also crazy. We understand you want to make money out of us as consumers and players, but you have to take care of us first before we even think twice about putting money into the game. I spent more money than I should have. Also the smoothness of the game is down a bit, even with my graphics improving and even when I have to turn off options to smooth out my game it's not there yet. There should also be an update to the store, it's pretty bad. I mean you can earn currency from challenges and rewards, but it takes a while to get anything decent. Like I said before you have to spend a lot of the usd actually getting nice things and the bp doesn't really give us anything worth getting anything. This game has so much potential to be an elite mobile game, but not if things don't change or updated. I really hope you guys take the time to read my review and give it a thought because these changes would only be for the better. I'm only one player, but I've spent my hard earned money on this game so that being said my words and ideas should be important along with every single other player. The game is fun, everything works great and it's pleasant to play! I've been playing since it came out and no problems that so ever, except the fact that hackers have found a way to take advantage! It's not fair because people are actually trying to rank and others are hacking to rank as well. People put money into this game and what so can be screwed once in a while by one person shooting through a wall? Naah isn't that fair, but really what do you do when we report it?? Anyway sometimes when I lie down my player stands back that sometimes killed me. Some cars drive stupidly, they slide or they don't even want to drive normally, also sometimes people don't die when I hit them at a legal speed to kill them, it just makes that one noise. The bots are cool because freed dead and free booty, but once I'm in a middle of a battle and a bot shoots me from behind like that? Or they give away our position quickly because we kill it or they shoot maybe we shouldn't collide and have hackers? The game will be a 5-star and will make more money $$$ also you need to add the new cards please I know miramar is a new one, but it would be nice!!! Im a decent player and I don't know if my debt next update you need to resolve those issues and add that new card please we will really enjoy! Overall the game is always going to be my favorite battle royale game! Thank you! Hello, thank you for took it to our notice. Please send us screenshots of such activities at PUBGMOBILE_CS@tencentgames.com. We will take the necessary actions against players who game exploiting. You can also report the Cheater of the in-game options in PUBG Mobile. With your help, our PUBG Mobile will be the game it could be!
