Even as a child I remember being taken to porches with my parents when I was on vacation and begging them to try to win a toy from grabber cars. After numerous attempts in which my parents tried (and failed) to win a specific cuddly toy on which I had set eyes on them they would succeed and become my final hero or b) admit defeat and try to distract me with some alternative game. Wouldn't it be great if I could replicate the fun of the arcades at home and with the chances of winning, for free, practically guaranteed? Well, now you can, with the moj moj claw machine/grabber, full of not one, not two but SIX surprise eggs Moj Moj. Just like a real working claw machine/grabber machine that you'll find at your fair or local game room, the Moj Moj Claw Machine is a large Moj-branded box and with a clear front and hole in the back so the eggs can be before the game. Small plastic eggs are sealed with surprises hidden inside, so for the first use there is some additional unboxing to have. With three moveable joy sticks (one to climb down, back and forth and left or right), the purpose of gameplay in the Moj Moj Claw Machine is to use the claw machine to direct the claw grabber to your egg, grab it and maneuver it safely at the shot, where you can recover and open your surprise egg. My daughter just turned 6 and didn't need any assistance to work on the controls, finding out very quickly how joysticks worked and being able to do it without any help from mom or dad. To play with the Moj Moj Claw Machine, simply insert one of the small plastic coins (a large number of them are provided) into the coin slowly and the machine activates, with lights on the sides and a traditional fair music melody that starts playing. You have about a minute to try to catch an egg before your time runs out, with the music increasing in speed closer to your expiration you get. The added pressure element can make you feel a little agitated so you really need to focus! The inserted coins go a little well under the box and can be easily removed by opening the lid once you have used them all. We found that the coins tended to freeze a bit (it seems that our coin hole had some excess plastic inside that prevented them from sticking cleanly), and as such, sometimes we would put a coin in and it wouldn't completely fall into the box. I am quite confident here that this was a specific flaw with our device and that under normal circumstances this would not be a problem. There are six Moj Moj surprises inside housed in small plastic eggs inside the Moj Moj Claw Machine, and the best part is that these can be reused and filled with other surprises once the initial novelty element of the Moj Moj revelation has worn off. The girls loved the element of removing their egg from filming and opening it to reveal the super cute moj moj characters inside. Specific characters included in the Moj Moj Claw Machine are rare and only available with the Moj Moj Claw Machine, and as such, you won't get duplicates if your child has already accumulated enough of the collection. If you've never had Moj Moj before, one thing to be aware of is that the cute moj moj characters are very soft and squishy, however being a bit squirrels attract dirt and fluff very quickly, which is almost inevitable when played on the carpet or floor. The Moj Moj Claw Machine was a great success with girls in general and Mike also started showing off his competitive side and enjoyed playing with it too. The grabber is quite easy to use and the chances of grabbing successfully are VERY compared to the real game room. It's always nice to know that you really have hope in hell chance of winning and that it won't end in tears! The Moj Moj Claw Machine would also make a fun Russian roulette game, where only one egg egg a prize. The Moj Moj Claw Machine is retailing for £44.99. While I think this is expensive for the product, it has been used A LOT since we first had it and the fact that it can be recharged and reused definitely helps to increase the longevity of its use. It's also worth noting that Moj Moj's individual gory bags are priced at £3.99 each and you get 6 in the set, so you have £24 of toys included in the package. If you're looking for a fun game for kids who love a surprise reveal and a trip to the arcade, then this might just be the ideal gift. * We were sent the Moj Moj Claw Machine in exchange for our honest review, and as always all thoughts and opinions are mine * Zoom in on the image with the mouse (no review) Write an SKU review.
