Life is strange comic issue 1

Titan Comics' life is strange returning readers to Arcadia Bay in the company of fan-favorite characters Max Caulfield and Chloe Price, charting the shocking passage of a possible future to one of the two ends of the game. Like so many players around the world, I fell hard for Max and her story from the release of episode one, and each chapter brought more sad, tearful and emotional rollercoasters, Life Is Strange writer Emma Vieceli said. One of the wonders of the series is that every player took Max and Chloe on a unique journey, and so distilling their possible future into one mini-series is a big thing. Importantly, as with the game, it should always be remembered that what we create here is one possibility out of many. I'm excited about the story we've opted for, and I hope readers will be too! Synopsis Life is Strange Comic Trailer The following synopsis summary appeared in every edition of Fabric in addition to a repeat of the previous issue: Mysteriously gifted with the power to turn back time, young photography student Max Caulfield went entangled in the dark secrets of Arcadia Bay. She used her strange new abilities to reconnect with her eldest friend, Chloe Price, and to bring the men who killed Chloe's closest confidant, Rachel Amber, to justice. Max's temporary capabilities, however, came at a cost, created a one-time hurricane that threatened the town with total destruction, if Max didn't allow the original timeline - in which Chloe died of a gunshot wound - to play out. In one sequence of events, Max chose to save Chloe's life and sacrifice Arcadia Bay. And in a versatile of infinite possibilities, this is one version of what happened next... Characters Fabric Arc Waves Arc Max Caulfield Chloe Price Rachel Amber Strings Arc Fabric Bow First Edition The first problem was released on November 14, 2018. [1] After repeating the Sacrifice Arcadia ending original Life, Max sits on a cliff considering her choice. Next up, Max is in Seattle in 2014, meeting with Dex, Dwight, Pixie, and Tammi at The Bean Barn to have hot drinks and share photos. During their discussion, they are interrupted by a news coverage on Arcadia Bay. Chloe brings Max into a bathroom to speak. Chloe makes note of the news coverage, mentioning that the storm and its destruction are being used to cover up for the actual events that happened involving Mr. Trump. Max and Chloe are invited to The High Seas' concert at The Bean Barn the following day. Before she enters, Max and Chloe realize that Max no longer has control over her time-travel powers. Inside, Chloe disappears temporarily and Max tries to find her. Chloe finally decides they have to go back to Arcadia Bay after Max collapses. Second Edition On 1 December 2018, the second edition was announced to release on 2 January 2019. In a previous Titan Comics' Solicitation, it was originally scheduled for December 19, 2018. [12] Max and Chloe drive toward Arcadia Bay as they talk about their situation. Their truck breaks down and Chloe manages to eventually recover it. Shifts in the timeline are seen as taking place in subtle visual details during these scenes (see Trivia section). Chloe also says she's going to pick up different things from her truck to repair it, confusing Max (oil can/toolkit). Max's nose is bleeding and she's sweeping it, unnoticed by Chloe. As they arrive, Arcadia Bay is restored by the Nathan Prescott Foundation. Max sees a deer, scaring Chloe away afterwards. When they get to the dinner, Max starts about the deaths caused by the storm, while Chloe tries to reassure her that they can't know if they're at Max then sees the dinner intact in supposedly another timeline and runs afterwards. Inside the dinner, Max and another Chloe talk to Dana with a baby in a stroller. Original Chloe finally grabs Max's hand and is later brought into Max's timeline, where Dana calls her mother. Back in the original timeline, Chloe tells Max about the thinking that her mother was there and Max calls Dana. Chloe realizes what happens to Max while she has somehow experienced an alternate timeline with Max and gets distressed. Max tries to apologize leading to Chloe saying it's not always about her, but also apologizing afterwards. Chloe decides to go into her mother's house, suggesting trying to find a chance to say goodbye. Max then sees a timeline where Joyce is lively mourning Chloe, but they hold hands don't make Chloe see her. When Max asks Joyce about Chloe, Joyce expresses that she doesn't think Chloe's ghost will be around her house. Chloe asks Max to tell Joyce that she's sorry and loves her. Max does it, and hugs Joyce, who then replies she loves her. Back in the original timeline, Chloe Max. Max's nose began to bleed and she says she doesn't think that was the fix. Third Edition The third edition was released on 30 January 2019. [13] In a previous Titan Comics' Request, it was originally scheduled for 16 January 2019. [14] The group practices a song, which Pixie finally reveals about Max and Chloe. Pixie texts Chloe, who is in her former room with Max. They discuss yesterday's haunting meeting with Joyce until a blue bird flies through the window in the room. (TBC) Fourth Edition The fourth edition was released on 27 February 2019. [15] Max has a vision in her sleep of other realities where she exists. In one of these, she appears to be in a relationship with Chloe and notes that they both seem happy. She's going to touch it as if she wants to jump into that reality, but turns around to see another option where Chloe is in a relationship with Rachel. Max ponders the question about what Chloe actually wants as she goes to touch reality where Chloe and Rachel are a couple. But she suddenly wakes up to Chloe worrying about her saying they should go back to Seattle. It's nighttime, and they rest on the bed of Chloe's truck as it's parked on a cliff edge near the lighthouse. Max asks Chloe if she believes in several realities, and Chloe says she thinks she always did. Max lists some of the realities she thinks exist, which includes a Max who didn't save Chloe's life, a Max who never got back to Arcadia Bay, a Max who never left... Chloe interrupted to say that there was also a Chloe waiting for her best friend to come home, a Chloe who went to L.A., and a Chloe who is able to speak her emotions out loud. Max suddenly asks Chloe if she loved Rachel more than a friend, catching Chloe off guard. They Them to have a serious conversation about what they mean to each other, and Chloe says she couldn't even think about it, and Max agrees, though she says she wants to think about it. Chloe suggests it would be different if they were in another reality where they weren't carrying a ton of luggage and where their lives are normal. The conversation is suddenly interrupted by Max experiencing a flicker. Max can't stop the flickering, saying it hurts, much to Chloe's concern. The flicker shows Max and Chloe a timeline where Max's tombstone is next to the cliff edge near the truck, with the dates 1998-2008 on display. The headstone is decorated with a pirate ship design, and a pirate hat rests on top of the stone with Max's old camera lying on the ground in front. Max wonders if she was in that timeline with William in the car. Chloe begs her to snap out of it, and Max finally comes around. Chloe is frustrated that Max interrupted their serious conversation with a flicker but was also concerned. Max explains to Chloe that she doesn't think they're visions as much as windows for other realities. She feels they're pulling towards her, getting stronger, and starting to cry as she tells Chloe she doesn't want them to take her away from her, but doesn't know how to stop them. Max is now convinced she's being pushed out of this reality like she doesn't belong and that it's like there's another Max who wants her universe back. Max asks Chloe for a moment alone to think, and Chloe kisses her forehead and tells her she'll wait in the truck. Max appears to be drifting away to sleep as she hugs her knees against her chest. When she wakes up, her nose bleeds. Max goes back to the truck to wake Chloe and says she wants to do something before they sleep. Under cover of darkness, they head to the Blackwell Academy campus where Max has the intention to scrape on the Prescott Memorial to be unveiled in the morning. As they both blink off to lift the covering on the memorial, Chloe tells Max she should say something. She thanks Max not only for literally saving her life, but for everything she's done to save her life in recent years. She tells Max there's no way she could coped without her and is stronger because of Max's presence in her life, too, adding that she feels strong enough to let Max go if she needs to. Chloe tells Max to stop fighting whatever draws at her because she loves her too much to see her hurt. Max tells Chloe it's not fair that they've both spent a year coming to terms with the destruction caused by the storm, which they both are, and how they both feel, just to make the timelines turn on them just as they come somewhere. Chloe reassures Max that the year is well spent growing together, working together, making new friends and a living, and that it's already a more than she would have if Max didn't save her. She finds out that Max wants to leave a mark on the memorial to see what happens to it once she leaves the timeline. Chloe then tells Max to remember it... and kiss her. It's morning, and we see Max and Chloe's friends Dex, Dwight, Pixie, and Tammi arrive at the memorial at Blackwell Academy. Max and Chloe sit somewhere in front of the main campus and talk about what Max is going to do next. Max holds onto a photo she thinks will make her access what she started calling the transect (a temporary crossroads from windows to different realities she can choose to visit). Chloe asks what reality Max plans to choose, but Max isn't sure, and says she'll know when she sees it as the pull gets stronger. Max rests her head on Chloe's shoulder and says she wishes they could stay that way forever as she focuses on the photo and starts to disappear. Chloe says that somewhere out there, they do. Then Chloe sits alone and vows that she won't waste the life Max gave her and that the sacrifices they both made won't be wasted. She says if there's a Max Caulfield in reality, Max let her in alone, she'll find her. Chloe then receives a text from her friends, Dex, Dwight, Pixie and Tammi to say that they arrived at the memorial if Chloe needs them, and Chloe smiles at this, knowing she's not fully alone. At the transect, Max promises in reply to Chloe that she won't waste her life either. She looks at all the many possible realities as she thinks about how Chloe has always been her anchor and believes that, wherever she finds herself, Chloe will be there. But Max thinks about how, for all of Chloe's life, it seems choices have been made for her, and Max feels no less guilty for her own part in this. Max decides that the reality in which she chooses to live in will be the one that is Chloe's choice, not hers. Max arrives at Santa Monica Beach, L.A., in the same period of 2014. She sees Chloe and Rachel Amber in bikinis, playing with a beach ball. Chloe is surprised and happy to see her. It seems the reality Max chose to live in is one where Chloe wished Max and met Rachel and could all be best friends together. The comic issue then ends on the phrase, This action will have consequences..., meaning the equivalent of power or power. To be continued.
