Husky dog talking i love you mom

Our dogs express their love in many different ways. They enjoy cuddling up to us on the couch. They will often lovingly stare at us with the big brown eyes of theirs. They definitely know how to make us feel loved. But there is a Husky who takes affection to a whole other level. That's pretty impressive. We all know that huskies are pretty vocal animals. There are plenty of videos circling the internet that show off these talkative dogs with full-blown conversations with their owners. Although these videos are usually Huskies airing their complaints, this video is very different. In the film you are introduced to Cash, the adorable Husky who puts into words how much he loves his owner. As his owner, Megan, shared in the YouTube video, Cash loves me. Or maybe he's just saying it to make me feel better. Whatever the pooch's motives, it was pretty impressive to see the dog try the magic words, I love you. Watch the cuteness in the clip below: How many of us can say that our dogs have tried to verbally express their love? Let us know! Our dogs express their love in many different ways.
