Warnings Never agree on an assignment from a client without a binding agreement that guarantees the payment of the services rendered. If you want to design a logo, you may need the best logo design software. This software can help you create something decent, even if you are a beginner or not a designer. The designs, of course, will not be at all close to the standard of a designer or professional agency to create something tailored to you. But not everyone has the budget for that. If you want something that's passable for a hobby, personal project, mockup, or internal presentation, there are plenty of tools to help. We found the best logo designers for professionals, beginners and non-designers and listed them in this article. We will also explain exactly which tools can meet your specific needs. So, if you need to create a look for your brand quickly and easily, check out these apps (plus our logo design guide). We also have a list of exclusively free logo design tools. But for now, whether you're looking for the best paid logo designer software or the best free logo designer software, we've covered you below. Switch to the best free logo design softwareThe best paid logo designer softwareThe decent logo can be crucial to your business's success, so focusing only on free tools can be a false economy. In fairness, the best logo designer for your needs will probably require some money. So in the first section of this post, we round up the best logo designer software around this is paid; for different platforms, and for professionals, novice designers and non-designers respectively. Adobe Illustrator is the best logo designer for professional use (Image Credit: Adobe)First launched in 1985, Adobe Illustrator has spent several decades now as the market's leading vector editor. As the name suggests, it's not just for logo creation, but it's used to create illustrations, posters, website layouts, icons, and more. But it is the tool that is most likely to be used by professionals to design a logo. This is partly because it is a very powerful and feature-rich design software. It's also because it works smoothly and efficiently with the entire Creative Cloud ecosystem, which means it's interoperable with other Adobe apps, and you can access resources like Adobe and Adobe Stock fonts within its interface. And it's partly because it's been around for so long, it's the undisputed industry standard. If you're completely new to designing software, though, then there's a pretty steep learning curve. Also keep in mind that Illustrator a t-t is available as a download but only as part of a monthly subscription, which can be quite expensive (although our Adobe Creative Cloud discount item can help keep the price low). To keep up with logo design with Adobe Illustrator, check out this Tutorial from Adobe and our Killer Logo Design walkthrough in Illustrator.Easily create logo designs using Logo Maker's Maker's Maker's canva Interface (Image Credit: Canva)If you're a novice designer with little or no creative software experience, something like Adobe Illustrator can be a bit scary. Instead, you'll find that Canva Logo Maker makes it easy to create a pleasant-looking logo using a drag-and-drop interface that works directly in your browser. You can use one of Canva's professionally designed logo templates to get you started, then add your own brand and start editing items until you've created a design that you're happy with. Once finished, you can download and share your finished logo as a PNG file. If you use your images and graphics, you won't pay a penny from start to finish, while graphics in the library start at $1 per pop. Overall, our favorite thing about Canva Logo Maker is how easy it is to use, with useful pop-up instructions that guide you from start to finish. Some examples of logos created by Tailor Brands ARTIFICIAL-based logo design software (Image Credit: Tailor Brands Brands)In our opinion, Tailor Brands Logo Maker is the best logo designer software for non-designers: people without a creative bone in their bodies. Because, quite simply, it does all the design for you. Start by asking yourself to type in the wording of your logo, then introduce you to a number of typographic options and ask you which one you like the most (you can also choose I don't like both). It's a bit like taking a pop quiz on Facebook and it only takes a minute or two to make your choices. Once finished, the tool leverages intelligent AI to evoke a selection of potential logo designs based on your choices, which can be icon-based, initial-based, or name-based. If you like one of them as it is, then you are free to go ahead and download as SVG or EPS files (at which point you pay). If you like one of them, you can start customizing text, typeface, colors etc., with simple tools in the browser until you're happy. At this point, to access the high res logo files, you will have to pay from £2.99 per month, billed annually. This might seem like a lot of money, but there's also plenty more to throw away, including a logo scaling tool, your logo in different social media sizes, plus a graphic design tool, stock photos and icons, and an AI-powered website builder. In short, if you are a non-designer looking for a package of marketing services and website, along with a bespoke logo design, then this aspect is worth considering. Designhill uses ARTIFICIAL intelligence to make it easier to create logos for non-users (image credit: Designhill) Quick and simple AI takes the voltageExpensiveDesignhill Logo Maker is powered by artificial intelligence and works very similar to tailor brands tool (above). Enter your data, choose a range of colors and designs that you like the look, and then the software produces a series of bespoke designs to choose from, choose from, Customize. The main difference is in price: while Tailor Brands Logo Maker charges you a membership, Designhill wants a one-time fee of £50 to download and own your logo. It might seem like a lot of money, but the logo generation itself is fast, easy, and free, so if you're a non-designer it's definitely worth a try. After all, if it automatically generates a logo that you absolutely love, then it's not really a lot of money. Icon Logo Maker is a surprisingly powerful logo designer software for iOS (Image credit: ICON)Wide range of resourcesSofisticated customisationiOS onlyThey can't spell!CONA Logo Maker is a paid app ($2.98) for iPhones and iPads that most educated people will likely scroll through the App Store, thanks to its poorly written slogan Porfessional Logo Studio. Typos aside, however, this logo design software is surprisingly sophisticated. With over a million customizable designs, 350K+ image backgrounds, and custom shades ranging from solid colors to gradients, there's plenty of flexibility on display here, making it more likely that you'll create something that doesn't look like everyone else's logo. You can further customize the design with a wide range of advanced controls, including intelligent layering, fill and stroke coloring, solid and gradient coloring, kerning and type guide, and grid snapping. Of course, non-designers won't know what most of that means, and so they'll probably be better off with one of the easiest tools on this list. But if you're a novice designer who doesn't want to spend much time on a tool like Illustrator (and/or spend significant money), this app might be right on your way. Logo Design Studio Pro Online allows you to create unlimited logos, quickly and easily (image credit: Logo Design Studio Pro Online)Simple to use Create Unlimited LogosExpients Simpler Than IllustratorDespite with Pro in the title, Logo Design Studio Pro isn't really for professionals. Instead, it's closer to something like Canva Logo Maker in providing a simple interface that makes it easy for novice designers to create a basic logo. With 3-5 tools on this list, the creation process is free and you pay when you download the logo. Logo Design Studio Pro, on the contrary, charges you to use the software itself, but allows you to design as many logos as you want. As we went to press, you had the choice to pay $29.99 for just one month (then $7.99 for each additional month), or $19.99 per month if you sign up for a year. There are plenty of resources included to help you complete your logo, including thousands of templates and graphics and hundreds of fonts commercial licence. If you're looking to just create a logo, this app is probably excessive, but if you want to create lots, it might be worth the membership. The best free logo designer softwareAs you can pay to invest in the logo logo software, sometimes you just need a quick and simple logo design as a placeholder, before solving a more sophisticated design later in the line. However, if google free logo design software, be careful! Many of the results will take you to logo tools that seem to be free, but actually charge you once you want to download your logo. These three tools, however, allow you to create and download your logo for free (though with some restrictions). Read on to discover the best free logo designer software available today... Shopify Hatchful is the best free logo designer software out there (image credit: Shopify)Completely free for allBrowser and mobile appsRestricted customization Shopify is a paid platform to build your ecommerce website, and very well it is too. But you don't need to sign up for Shopify to use Shopify Hatchful: it's a separate app that's absolutely free. You can use it within the browser or download the free app for iOS or Android. You start by answering a series of questions about your type of business and the type of style you're looking for, and then the software generates a number of logos to choose from. Click on what you like and you can then change it in terms of colors, fonts and layouts. It's all pretty simple, but the logos look very decent and there are no hidden fees – it's all absolutely free. Squarespace Logo Creator is super fast and hassle-free (Image Credit: Squarespace)Very easy/Very quick/Almost no customization/Only free for customers SquarespaceSquarespace is another paid website building platform, and was pretty much the first to offer its customers free logo design software. Compared to the other tools on this list, however, Squarespace Logo Creator is an extremely simple logo designer. Tell the browser-based app the name of your business and it generates a logo for you. You can choose a symbol from the Noun Project, and that's all in terms of customization. So it's time to download your logo. There's not a huge amount of sophistication on offer, then. But if you just want a fast logo and you don't really care about the design, as long as you look fine, then this is the fastest and easiest way to do it. However, be aware that you need to be a Squarespace customer to get a high-speed version of your logo for free. Otherwise you can download the low res version for free, but you'll have to pay $10 for the high res file. Ucraft is the best free logo design software to create your own logo from scratch (Image Credit: Ucraft)The design from zeroPNG is totally freeSVG tools of not free Don't want an automatically generated logo but would you rather create something of your own, from scratch? The Ucraft website building platform offers a free logo maker that allows you to do exactly that, for free. Click the Text button, type your text and change the size, font, etc. Then add shapes, icon icons funds to complete the project. As for design tools, this is not Adobe Illustrator. But it's very easy to use, and unlike other so-called free tools, you can download a high-res PNG version of your logo without paying a dime. (An SVG file costs $7.) Read more: more:
