Navel orange tree for sale uk

Welcome to the Global Orange Groves UK website. We are retired now, no longer sell trees, but are available for advice if needed. Established in 1988, many years of experience in growing and delivering healthy, productive Citrus trees at our own nursery in the UK. At our nursery in Dorset we carried a wide range of both citrus trees and other exotic woods. Most of the woods were available for mail order delivery. With many more available for collection directly from kindergarten. We have also written our own book: 'Success with Citrus', which covers all aspects of the care and storage of a Citrus Tree. Among our selection of orange trees for sale were Navel Oranges like Washington, Navelina, Newhall and Navelate. Ornamental Oranges such as Buddha's Fingers (Cidro Digitado), Bergamot, Seville Orange trees. Our exotic fruit trees included banana trees, Chinese dates, Sharon fruit and more. Other citrus woods also available were Lime trees, lemon trees, clementines, satsumas, mandarin, kumquats and grapefruit trees. In addition, we still offer our own specially formulated fertilizer, which is produced to provide the best results in the cultivation and fruition of Citrus trees in the United Kingdom. We also have our citrus compost available for collection from our own nursery. Due to the diversity of citrus and exotic fruit tree varieties, different leaf shapes, tree shape and maturity, the choice of wood is a very personal one. We would therefore recommend that you make an effort to visit the kindergarten, where you get a guided tour and have more than 1500 trees to choose from. Where we are. Full growing instructions were provided with each tree purchased, but the main points are: Citrus trees prefer cool rather than warm conditions. Keep your tree outside in summer and protect against frost in winter by placing in a conservatory or greenhouse. Lose well when inside if the temperature rises to give moisture, or periodically take the tree outside to give a good hose down. Stay free from pest infestations and feed every week throughout the year with a special citrus fertilizer. Washington Navel Orange (Citrus sinensis /citrangue carrizo) This variety of orange wood is very energetic. The fruit is very large, seedless and of excellent quality. The fruit contains a good amount of juice. The harvest of the fruit is after November, but the oranges will stay on the tree for a long time. The orange tree produces large thorns, these can be removed as they appear. The fruits are very heavy and you will need to allow this orange tree variety to be quite large and strong to keep the weight of the fruit.
