Learn more Step-by-step instructions for drawing a Flying Bird Bird drawing - step 1 Start by drawing a small circle. This will form the head of the bird. Bird signs - step 2 Then insert an irregular shape to the right of the circle using two curved lines that meet in one point. This will form the body of the bird. Bird signs - step 3 Extend two more curved lines above and below the point. Connect these lines using a curved line. This will form the bird's tail. Bird drawing - step 4 Extend a wing of the upper part of the body using two undulating, roughly S shaped lines. The lines must meet at one point. Bird drawing - step 5 Out of the area of the head, extend two more curved lines that meet in one point. This will form the second wing. Bird drawing - step 6 Wis the guide lines of the head, the base of the wing and the tail. Bird signs - step 7 Draw the beak using a series of curved lines. The beak should form a point at the bottom. Bird drawing - step 8 Clear the guide line of the circle from the beak. Bird drawing - step 9 Add flight springs to the left wing by overlapping a series of connected, U-shaped lines with the lower line of the wing. Bird drawing - step 10 Wis the guide lines of the wing. Bird signs - step 11 Mark a set of connected, U shaped lines that extend the right wing. Bird drawing - step 12 Clear the guide line of the wing. Bird drawing - step 13 Add feathers to the tail by drawing a series of connected, U shaped lines along the tip of the tail. Bird drawing - step 14 Clear the guide line of the tail. Bird drawing - step 15 Add the detail of feathers to the bird. Draw a series of U shaped lines within each wing, wing, to the flight springs. Allow some of the U shaped lines to connect, and others to stand alone. Draw several curved lines on the bird's hull. Draw slightly curved lines along the length of the tail. Bird drawing - step 16 Draw a small circle in the middle of the head to form the eye, and a dot in the beak to form the nostril. Bird drawing - step 17 Extend a few short lines from above the eye, forming eyelashes. Draw a large circle in the eye, and a smaller oval and circle in it. Shadow the area between the larger circle and the smaller shapes. Bird drawing - step 18 Mark a series of connected, curved lines above the tail to form the ruffle of feathers along the leg. Draw a small enclosed shape below to form the leg itself. Under the leg draw several small tear drop shapes to form the toes. Bird drawing - step 19 On the line of the stomach, tick still some tear drop forms to form the other foot. Bird signs - step 20 Color your flying bird.
