Synchrony bank amazon prime store card

This app is only available in the App Store for iPhone. Now there is a simple and convenient way to manage your Amazon.com Store Card and Amazon Prime Store Card, issued by Synchrony Bank. With the Amazon Store Card app, you can access your credit account details, pay your bill, make points purchases, and view your digital card. Easy setup and loginLogin and access your account securely and easily with TouchID or FaceID View purchase details by browsing to the activities page and tapping on transaction October 21, 2020 Version 4.2.3 Thank you for using the Amazon Store Card app! We are continuously making improvements to give you the best experience. As part of this release, we're adding the feature to view more detailed transaction and purchase information and allowing more flexibility in your payments. As a benefit of being a cardholder, you will also have access to view exclusive offers in the app! This app is very responsive. One improvement I'd like to see added is what other credit card apps can do, like American Express and CapitalONE when you make a payment, your available spending credit is adjusted instantly! This is very useful when you want to buy something at the time that exceeds your available balance, so you can pay the difference and order the item without waiting a few days, at which time you may even lose the item (out of stock, for example). If you add this feature to this app, then this app will be worth 10 STARS!!! I don't think I've ever had a worse banking experience. I tried several times to make a payment, but for one reason or another it wouldn't pass. I don't know if the problem arose from Synchrony, my bank, or myself, but the real frustration started and continued when I tried to get support. It seems that there is no way to get into the app to contact support except by phone, and we all know what that means. Sometimes the person on the other side was very difficult to understand (combination of British pronunciation on top of an Asian accent), or it didn't help. The most frustrating thing was that there was no way they could communicate whether or not a payment had been made before a notice was sent of late fees charged. Besides, there seems to be no way to close the account after I mailed a check and asked for it to be closed. So I'll always get notices of my $0.31 credit that apparently isn't available. I just hope no one is able to hack into my account and create more problems. I think it's easier to manage than the previous site- however, in both my apps for my discovery card, and my bank card- I can see the stream adding up my total to the side - so I can see when I do payment he deducts from the total running or if I buy something that adds- I like it because it's like balancing a checkbook and I can see the flow of my money. How Do I Make Most Of My Online Shopping manage my accounts this way, with the sync app, you guys just post the total of my only purchase and don't give me a full run. It makes me feel like I pay too much or because of the lag I end up paying until I credit my bill as I pay twice. It's very difficult and confusing and I would prefer a total running like all my other banking sites have.
