When you are outside of your wireless carrier network, higher charges are imposed for services such as multimedia messages (MMS), web browsing, voice and text messages. Closed Roaming Voice and Roaming Data decreased the chances of billing too high. Turn data tracking on or off, prepare for international travel, and more. Need to avoid roaming charges because you have reached your destination without an international data plan? Lock cell data with Data Roaming.1,2 Open Settings and tap cellular, or cell data, or mobile data. Lock cell data, then type Cell Data Options and close Data Roaming. Still planning your trip? Here are three ways to prepare: Before you go: To avoid fees with higher rates, call your carrier or visit online to shop international roaming plans. After Arrival: Open Settings. Type cellular, or cellular data, or mobile data. Then type Cell Data Options and turn on Data Roaming and other settings suggested by your carrier. Before you go: If you have an iPad with an eSIM or Apple SIM, you can browse cellular plans from selected carriers in more than 90 countries, regions, and territories. After arrivals: Go to Settings > Cell data and purchase a roaming plan that adjusts your needs. Before you go: You can usually buy or rent a SIM card for a specific country or region. Learn more in travel guides and websites related to the country or region. After arrival: Replace your current SIM card with the new one. You'll need the original when you return home, so put your original in a safe place. When you lock cell data with Roaming Data, the cell-data icon should not be displayed in the status bar. Learn more about cellular data settings and usage. Apple Watch Series 3 (GPS + cellular) and Apple Watch Series 4 do not support roaming data. While using tracking data on your iPhone, Apple Watch Series 3 (GPS + cellular) or Apple Watch Series 4 will only be able to use Wi-Fi or you cellular connections. To use buy or rent SIM card, you need an iPad (Wi-Fi + Phone), unlocked iPhone, or SIM-free iPhone. If you exceed the data-usage limits in your international data plan, you might run out of data or notice slower network speeds. To check data usage, open Settings and tap Cellular, or Cellular Data, or Mobile Data. Then see below cellular heading data. Learn more about cellular data usage. Turn on Airplane Mode for about 30 seconds. Then turn it in again and let your iPhone automatically select the best network. If you see No Service in the status bar of your iPhone, open Settings and type cellular, or cellular data, or mobile data. Type Cellular Data Options and make sure that Roaming Data is on. Then, to check that the international roaming is turned on for your account, contact your carrier. If the date and time are wrong after you arriving, go to Settings > General > Date & Time. Make sure the Set automatically is turned on. Still need help? If so, here's what to do: Go to Settings > Cellular > Cell Phone Network and Turn off Automatic. Wait until available networking is displayed, which might take two minutes. Type the carrier that you want. Go back to the main Settings screen and wait for your iPhone or iPad to connect to the network. If you still need help, try a different SIM card or contact your insurance company for more information. Thank you for your feedback. Step 1 of Touch Settings 8. Images can't exactly be as shown.
