Wondering if you're dating a player? Even though you really like this guy, you're looking for serious commitment and you can see the future with him, it's important to know if he's actually a player. He may seem like the perfect guy, but there are eight key characters that can help you know if you're on your way to happiness or being played instead. One of the clear signs that you are dating a player is that he always texts other people. For example, if you notice that he's always on the phone, smiling, laughing and sending photos, it can help you know that you're not the only person he's communicating with and you're not the only person in mind. When you can't get his attention when you're together, this is a key indicator that he's playing the field. Another top sign that the player is that he will not talk about your future together. While you may want to start planning trips as a couple and want to talk about your future hopes, dreams and goals, he is tentative to commit to anything far in advance. For example, he may give a request to accompany you to a relative's wedding in a few weeks or he will not give you a clear answer about spending the holidays together because he does not want to be tied up in any way. Since we're already like he's not tied up, an additional sign that the player is that he's unreliable. While you may be planning on meeting for lunch, watching a movie or meeting at the market, he keeps changing plans with you, leaving you hanging and cancelling at the last minute. When you're dating someone you can't count on, you can count on the fact that you're being played. Another key indicator that you are dating a player is that he tends to stay on the fuzzy side regarding his daily appearances when you are not around. For example, he can generalize about his job, keep things ambiguous about his weekend plans, or hold your conversations on a superficial level. If you're dating someone who never gives you a straight answer and leaves you guessing and wondering, it shouldn't be a surprise that he's probably playing you. When it comes to unclear, the clear sign that you are with the player is that you have not met people close to him. For example, if you've never met one of his friends and yet he's met yours, this should raise a red flag that's something a little weird. To get to know someone and make a connection, it's important that you both take steps to engage with your worlds. However, if he doesn't want to involve you in this aspect of his life, it's usually a sign of the player, because it shows that you're just not that important to him. An additional sign that the player is that great flirtation. For example, while he can flirt you, he tends to flirt with housewives, waitresses, or baristas when you're together. You can also notice that it checks on others even when you are with each other. If he seems to have a wandering eye, it may be a key indicator that he played you. If you're wondering if you're dating a player, another top sign is that his needs come before yours. For example, whether he chooses a restaurant, a time to socialize or a place to meet, he will always be on his terms and meet his needs. However, when you are in a relationship where there is mutual respect, trust and compassion, you set each other the right priority instead of putting the focus on yourself. Another top sign that you're dating a player is that he keeps trying to get you into bed. But in a loving, happy and healthy relationship, you should never feel pressured to do something you don't want to do, even if you're kissing on a first date. No one should ever pressure you or feel the need to convince you to do something you are not comfortable with, and if he behaves in such an inappropriate way, he is not only a player, but also a loser. 1 out of 13 Of course, you could probably pick Cristiano Ronaldo from the line-up. But what makes him — and many other superstars in Brazil this summer — worth watching? Read on to see the top 11 international players – and our picks for the top three Americans – leading this World Cup. 2 out of 13 Kevin-Prince BoatengGHANA Position: Midfielder known for: Toughness; Shooting from a distance Watch: Thun v United States: June 16 at 6pm EST on ESPN as Boateng takes on US captain Clint Dempsey. 3 out of 13 Eden HazardBELGIUM Position: Left wing Known for: Tricky footwork that leaves opponents shaken Download our free World Cup app for everything you need to know about the beautiful game, players to watch, Brazilian culture and more! 4 out of 13 Andrés IniestaSPAIN Position: Midfielder known for: Flawless reading of the game; intelligent movement; Big plays in big games Watch: Spain v Netherlands: 13 June at 3pm EST on ESPN. The stage is set for an epic rematch of the 2010 World Cup finals. Follow: According to Twitter #WorldCup, Iniesta is one of the top three aforementioned midfielders on the social network (alongside teammate Juan Mata Garcia and Mesut Özil from Germany). 5 out of 13 Shinji KagawaJAPAN Position: Striker known for: Feather-soft touch; excellent reading opposition 6 out of 13 Thomas Müller GERMANY Position: Forward Known for: Being in the right place (in front of goal) at the right time (when the ball is also in front of goal) and put the ball where it should go (goal) See: Germany v United States: 26 June, 12pm EST on ESPN. If this group is as tight as american fans hope it will be, the chances of passing could come down to this one - and result result which will be played simultaneously. 7 out of 13 Lionel Messi ARGENTINA Position: Centre forward Known for: Incredible balance, speed and finishing; threat from anywhere in the field Known for: Incredible balance, speed and finishing; Threat from anywhere on the pitch Follow: In the past two weeks Messi has been the third most wanted footballer, according to Yahoo Search data, behind Portugal's Ronaldo and Italy's Mario Balotelli. Join 58 million other football fans and follow Messi on Facebook. 8 out of 13 Cristiano RonaldoPORTUGAL Position: Left wing Known for: Lethal combination of speed, power and precision Look: Portugal v United States: June 22, 3PM EST on ESPN. Without at least a tie against Portugal it's hard to see the U.S. advancing to the knockout stages. Follow: Ronaldo is, unsurprisingly, the most #WorldCup player on Twitter. With nearly 27 million followers he has as many fans as Tiger Woods, LeBron James, Drew Brees, Floyd Mayweather, David Ortiz and Lance Armstrong combined. 9 out of 13 Paul PogbaFRANCE Position: Midfielder known for: Controlling midfield; Rocket shot outside 18-yard frame 10 of 13 Luis SuárezURUGUAY Position: Attacker known for: Grit; tricks; Creating your own opportunities Watch: Uruguay v England: 19 June at 3pm EST on ESPN. Look for Luis Suárez to retaliate for two years of harsh treatment in the British press for his admittedly erratic behaviour, such as being bitten by opponents. 11 out of 13 NeymarBRAZIL Position: Left wing Known for: Stringing past defenders with the ball seemingly on the wire Follow: Brazil is the number one most followed by the national team on Twitter, with fans and supporters counting on Neymar to lead the way to victory. You can also follow Neymar on Instagram for behind-the-scenes photos from the World Cup. 12 out of 13 Andrea PirolITALY Position: Defensive midfielder Known for: Controlling midfield; Rockets shot outside the 18-yard frame Elegant, loop, accurate passes from midfield depth See: Italy v England: 14 June, 6pm EST on ESPN. These two former world champions need to get off to a fast start, what with current South American champion Uruguay also competing for progress. 13 of the 13 American guys this trio will have to deliver for the Americans to thrive. TIM HOWARD Position: GoalkeeperKnown for: Reaction saves; demonstrative adjustments to defensive tacticsMICHAEL BRADLEY Position: Box-to-box midfielderKnown for: Setting the pace of U.S. possession; covers more ground than anyone else on the fieldCLINT DEMPSEY Position: Withdrawn strikerKnown for: Captain; Play best when angry Forty thieves is a card game for one player. Many Patience card games, as they are called, are built on variations of Solitaire. Forty thieves require solo players to drop all their cards, moving them tableau foundations. The tableau appears to be from stacks of cards, which must be arranged in a certain order and moved according to special rules. Step 1: Set the gameAxes 40 cards in 10 tableau stacks of four cards each. They should be facing up and fanned out, which means they overlap each other and all cards can be seen. There are eight core pilots, starting empty, and one empty reject pile to begin with. Step 2: Build core stacksAccording to fit, move the cards one by one, building the core piles according to the card suit. The top tab of each tableau stack and the top tab of the stack discarded are the only cards available. The foundation piles begin with an ace and end with the king. Step 3: Agreement cards as needed The remaining 12 cards serve as a deck from which to draw cards. If they're not used, they go to the reject pile. Bunch.
